SOCIAL CREDIT BILLS DRAFTED BY ALBERTANS

Urged Forward By Followers, Aberhart Gets Two Ready For Legislature Today

Caucus Wants Speedier Action

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Edmonton, March 5.—Two Social Credit bills, one dealing with the issuance of Alberta credit and the other with an import-export bureau, probably will be introduced in the Legislature today, according to an announcement by Premier William Aberhart.

The bills were discussed last night at a four-hour caucus of government supporters and approved in detail. Only a last-minute turn of events would block their introduction today.

The caucus led to many rumors of dissension among the government supporters, prompted by a speech in the Legislature yesterday by A. L. Blue, Social Credit, Ribstone. He urged appointment of a qualified Social Credit technical expert and criticized the government for proposing to send Premier Aberhart to the coronation.

He believed the Premier should stay at home, considering the poverty existing here today.

Following the caucus, Social Credit members denied there was dissension in their ranks.

"We are showing a united front and will now go ahead at full speed," one of them declared.

The Ribstone member attended the caucus and took a leading part in discussions. It was stated today by another member that he was not criticized by the government for his speech.

For the past three or four days private members have been meeting privately here, openly stating their dissatisfaction with the government's progress in establishing Social Credit.

The Blue speech brought this movement into the open and led to a special cabinet meeting, followed by the caucus.

Reports this week said the group of dissatisfied members totaled thirty and controlled a majority of House and caucus votes. They wanted more speed in setting up a new economic order in Alberta and were demanding the services of a competent expert like Major C. H. Douglas.

France Increases Navy Man Power

Associated Press
Paris, March 5.—The French government, strengthening all branches of defence, moved today to increase the navy's man power by 10,000.

A bill prepared for the Chamber of Deputies would provide that non-officer personnel be raised from 51,130 to 70,817, the officers from 2,112 to 2,340, and marine engineers from 418 to 516.

NEW BRITISH AIR VOTE $412,500,000

Estimates For 1937 For Defence Against Plane Raids $159,000,000 Greater Than in 1936

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, March 5.—Britain proposes to spend £82,500,000 ($412,500,000) on air defence in 1937. This is £21,800,000 ($109,000,000) over 1936. The increase alone is almost double the total expenditure of £16,000,000 in 1935.

The air estimates issued today raise Britain's total bill for the three fighting services in 1937 to £269,739,000 ($1,349,000,000), which is an increase of about 43 per cent over 1936. Of the total 1937 air expenditure, Alice Moore and Collette Lyons were snapped by The Times cameraman at the Willows yesterday as they made their first acquaintance with the studio of Central Films Limited, where they will take part in "Women Against the World," production of which will start on Monday morning. Miss Moore left, has the leading role in the picture, the seventh to be made here by the company, and Miss Lyons is the comedienne. Both were impressed by the facilities of the studio, the only one of its type in Canada. The two stars arrived at the Dominion Hotel from Hollywood yesterday morning.

Premier King At White House

Prime Minister Welcomed in Washington; Talks With Roosevelt

Washington, March 5.—Prime Minister King arrived today to discuss world affairs with President Roosevelt during an overnight visit at the White House.

The President said world affairs would be the subject of a talk with Mr. King this evening.

Mr. King was met by Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Marvin H. McIntyre, presidential secretary, and other officials. He went first to the Canadian legation, being scheduled to begin his White House visit late in the day.

The Prime Minister stopped off here on a vacation trip to the south Atlantic coast.

Mr. King said he had been invited by the President to "talk over matters of mutual interest to the United States and Canada."

Officials were silent on what these matters were, but there was speculation that Mr. Roosevelt had determined to press the St. Lawrence treaty issue at this session and wished by personal conversations to determine the Canadian attitude.

Financial circles expected the Bank of France, with the backing of the Treasury and under the tri-partite agreement among France, Great Britain and the United States, to keep the franc at 21.5 to the United States dollar, approximately the present market price.

Parliamentary circles thought it more probable Vincent Auriol, Minister of Finance, would seek to peg the franc at 21.36, a slightly lower rate, in order to aid foreign trade and prevent further strain on French finances.

In the trio of measures which reviewed the entire scope of France's

AT HOME AND ABROAD
In 1919 the Royal Air Force establishment consisted of twenty-eight squadrons, seven of which were stationed at home and twenty-one overseas. The present scheme of expansion provides, among other things, for a metropolitan air force of 1,750 aircraft.

These will be organized into 124 squadrons, of which 100 will have been formed by the end of March. During the summer the number will rise to 124 squadrons, including twenty squadrons of the auxiliary air force, with an approximate first line strength of 1,500 aircraft. These 124 squadrons subsequently will be increased in size to give the necessary total first line strength of 1,750 aircraft.

Hepburn Reads Dr. A. D. Roberts, Sault Ste Marie, Out of Liberal Party

Canadian Press
Toronto, March 5.—Dr. A. Duncan Roberts, Liberal member for Sault Ste. Marie, today in the Ontario Legislature was accused by Premier Mitchell Hepburn of "blackgauling" the Algoma Steel Company and was then read out of the Liberal Party by the Premier.

Mr. Hepburn announced he would ask the Speaker next Monday to move Dr. Roberts to the opposition benches.

Mr. Hepburn's denunciation of Dr. Roberts as one "unworthy to be a member of the Legislature" came as an answer to Dr. Roberts' charge in the House yesterday that the Premier had shown him "utter discourtesy and cheap autocracy" in permitting Sir James Dunn, president of the Algoma Steel Company, to announce at Sault Ste. Marie the government policy of an iron ore bonus.

Mr. Hepburn declared Dr. Roberts suddenly had developed animosity toward himself. Sir James Dunn and the Algoma Steel Company of which Sir James is president, because "the honorable member for Sault Ste. Marie has been unable to blackmail the company into giving him a position on the company payroll in consideration of his support for the iron ore bill."

Dr. Roberts, who was born in Newfoundland in 1894, came to Canada in 1915 and attended Queen's University, Kingston. He was elected to the Legislature at the 1934 general election.

U.S. EXPLAINS TO GERMANY

Associated Press
Washington, March 5.—The United States apologized to Germany today for remarks made Wednesday by Mayor Fiorella La Guardia of New York about Chancellor Adolf Hitler.

The State Department said that James C. Dunn, chief of the Division of Western European Affairs, in an oral statement to Dr. Hans Thomsen, counsellor of the German embassy, said, in substance:

"The German Government through its embassy here makes complaint against certain utterances of Hon. Fiorella La Guardia in a public address at the Hotel Astor in New York on March 3, stating that such utterances seriously and severely reflect on the head of the German state and the German Government."

"In this country the right of freedom of speech is guaranteed by the constitution to every citizen and is cherished as a part of the national heritage. This, however, does not lessen the regret of the government when utterances either by private citizens or by public officials speaking in an individual capacity give offence to a government with which we have official relations."

"I very earnestly deprecate the utterances which have thus given offence to the German Government. They do not represent the attitude of this government toward the German Government. It is our policy to maintain friendly relations."

Ban Lifted By Government To Bolster Finances; Public Outlays Cut; Big Defence Loan

Associated Press
Paris, March 5.—Premier Leon Blum's Socialist government bolstered uncertain French finances today by lifting the ban on domestic gold trading, promised drastic curtailment of public expenditures and urged "every Frenchman" to support a new national defence loan as the only one which the treasury will issue during the course of the year.

The loan will contain a clause giving subscribers the option of being repaid either in francs, dollars or pounds sterling. It was announced later, in the expectation of attracting British and American as well as French money.

Lifting of the ban on gold for home trading will be effective next Monday.

To revive confidence, parliamentary circles said, the government necessarily must peg the franc, at least unofficially.

Financial circles expected the Bank of France, with the backing of the Treasury and under the tri-partite agreement among France, Great Britain and the United States, to keep the franc at 21.5 to the United States dollar, approximately the present market price.

Parliamentary circles thought it more probable Vincent Auriol, Minister of Finance, would seek to peg the franc at 21.36, a slightly lower rate, in order to aid foreign trade and prevent further strain on French finances.

NEW BRUNSWICK For Conference

Fredericton, N.B., March 5.—Premier Dymally believes it is time to reopen the Dominion-provincial conference.

Admitting today that New Brunswick has been lagging behind in so far as social legislation is concerned, he said that revival of the Ottawa discussions "might materially assist in this regard," and indicated his government desires to co-operate with those of the other provinces and the Dominion.

STATEMENT ON TREATY ASKED

Bennett and Neill Urge U.S. Salmon Reservations Be Explained

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 5.—Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, joined with A. W. Neill, Independent, Comox-Alberni, in the Commons today in urging the government to give the House full particulars of United States reservations to the Fraser River treaty.

Mr. Neill referred to an answer tabled several days ago on the subject, stating reservations made by the United States were "clarifications or interpretations upon administrative aspects."

Mr. Neill claimed there were important changes involved and the government proposed to effect them by order-in-council. He urged the House be given an opportunity to discuss these reservations.

Mr. Bennett supported the member for Comox-Alberni, and urged that no action be taken without consulting Parliament.

The treaty as approved by Canada in 1930 would not be the one going into effect if the proposed changes were made, Mr. Bennett said.

FULL CONSIDERATION
Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, acting leader of the government, said full consideration would be given the representations of Mr. Bennett and Mr. Neill.

The Fraser River treaty arises from a convention signed at Washington in 1930 for the protection, preservation and extension of the Sockeye salmon fisheries in the Fraser River system.

Rykoff Barred By Communists

Associated Press
Moscow, March 5.—The Communist Party tonight expelled Alexis Rykoff, former president of the Council of People's Commissars, and Nikolai Bukharin, former editor of Izvestia, and announced important new resolutions affecting the whole party.

Both Rykoff and Bukharin are expected to be tried soon for conspiracy against the Soviet regime.

Boy Dies After Bicycle Crash

Canadian Press
Vancouver, March 5.—John La Chance, fifteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. La Chance, died in a hospital here today from injuries suffered yesterday when knocked off his bicycle by an automobile in Burnaby municipality, east of here.

British Columbia police report no charges had been laid against W. Stevenson, alleged driver of the automobile.

Changes in personnel of the British Columbia Court of Appeal, possibly affecting two members of the bench, will take place this year.

Hon. J. A. Macdonald, Chief Justice of British Columbia and head of the appeal court, will retire shortly. The Victoria Times was informed today.

He will forward his resignation to Ottawa within a short time. Members of his family who gave the information did not state when his retirement would be effective.

Another impending retirement from the appeal court bench is that of Mr. Justice A. E. McPhillips, it is stated. This, however, could not be confirmed today.

When the resignation of the Chief Justice takes place, his probable successor as head of the court will be Mr. Justice Archer Martin. The other members of the court are: Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald and Mr. Justice W. G. McQuarrie.

The probability of Attorney-General Gordon Sloan being appointed to fill the first vacancy in the court is discussed. Mr. Sloan, after practicing law privately with some distinction in Vancouver before joining the government, has since made a capable record before the Supreme Court of Canada in appearances for the crown.

Chief Justice Macdonald has presided over the B.C. Court of Appeal since its inception in 1909. He is seventy-nine years old this year.

He was appointed to the court after a brilliant career at the bar where he won the reputation of being a man of vigor, energy and mental acumen and a fine lawyer with a clear, incisive business intelligence.

He started his law career in 1890 and came out to British Columbia in 1897, practicing in Roseland. In 1905 he was made a K.C. and in 1907 a member of the Law Society. From 1903 to 1909 he sat as member of the

Mrs. Clark Visits Toronto Newspaper Office; Ends "Disappearance" Talk

Canadian Press
Toronto, March 5.—Mrs. Pauline Mae Clarke, a contestant in the $500,000 Millar baby derby, turned up in a newspaper office here today to qualify reports of her "disappearance."

She had left home Monday, Mrs. Clarke explained, for a rest from the importunings of reporters, complicated by worry because one of her babies had swallowed a penny.

She was not outside Toronto, Mrs. Clarke said. "I did go away for a rest, and I did lead a nice quiet life for a while," she said. "But this publicity knocks it all on the head."

Attorney-General Acts in Case of Mrs. Elwood Dunbar, Poisoned by Baking Powder in Biscuits; Manslaughter Charge Against Man Who Packed Order for Baking Powder Ingredients; Other Prosecutions Considered

Instructions have been issued for two prosecutions in connection with the death of Mrs. Elwood Dunbar of Burnaby in the mainland's "baking powder" case, Attorney-General Sloan announced today.

C. Stan Johnston, employee of MacDonald & Wilson Limited, who was stated at the inquest to have filled the order of materials for the baking powder, will be charged with manslaughter, the Attorney-General said.

MacDonald & Wilson Limited, the company, will be prosecuted on a charge of criminal negligence.

The police do not know the whereabouts of Johnston at present, but a warrant for his arrest will be issued. Action by the Attorney-General followed a review of evidence in the case taken at the inquest.

Instructions have been forwarded to Vancouver to have the informations laid.

The verdict of the jury in the case was:

"We, the jury, find that Mrs. Elwood Dunbar came to her death on January 14 at 3 a.m. in her home on Augusta Avenue, North Burnaby, as a result of poison sodium fluosilicate, which was contained in baking powder in a Plenty-for-All Product."

"That this baking powder was used in making biscuits and that her death resulted from the effects after she had eaten these biscuits on January 13. This sodium fluosilicate was used in the baking powder by the Bepave Products Ltd., under the impression that it was starch, and Bepave Products obtained this poison from MacDonald, Wilson Limited, which was sent in mistake for starch."

"Therefore, we find that there was gross negligence on the part of MacDonald, Wilson Limited in handling this 'virulent poison' in this manner."

Officer Rescues Four From Blaze

Canadian Press
Vancouver, March 5.—Constable O. T. Stiles of the Vancouver city police today rescued four persons from their burning home here.

The constable, while patrolling his beat, saw flames at the rear of the house. He smashed in a rear door of the burning building, awoke Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Elliott and two male lodgers and led them to safety.

SARNIA FOUNDRY AGAIN AT WORK

Canadian Press
Sarnia, Ont., March 5.—Production was resumed today at the Holmes Foundry Company's plant here after brief cessation during which workers were "suitably armed" by company officials in readiness to repulse a counter-attack feared from "strangers" seen in motor cars near the plant.

Rumblings of further clashes brought twenty-five provincial police to the plant to stand guard.

In Tuesday's riot here 150 non-strikers ejected seventy-eight sit-down strikers from the plant.

Labor Retains London Control

With 75 Members Elected Yesterday to Council Against 49 Reformers, Party in Power For Second Three Years

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, March 5.—Labor will rule London for three more years. Final results of yesterday's election for the London County Council leave the party standing: Labor, seventy-five; Municipal Reformers, forty-nine.

Labor lost four seats but gained ten and thus enters the new council with a net gain of thirty-four seats. The Municipal Reformers lost ten and gained four. Their net loss is six.

Labor again won after a strenuous battle to oust them from control. In 1934, for the first time in the history of London, labor won the fight with a net gain of thirty-four seats. The Liberals lost all their six seats. Labor now increases its majority on the council from fourteen to twenty-six. Total membership of the council is 124.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE
"Thank you very much, London," said Herbert Morrison, Labor leader of the London County Council, when he learned of the result. "This is a splendid vote of confidence. I think we deserve it. But it is a great thing that London recognizes a good job. Now we are going on to finish the job."

"One of the most gratifying features is the increased poll. We did our best to fight apathy, and it was we, the Labor council, that secured longer polling hours. I am proud of the big poll. I always wanted it. Our opponents will now have to give up the argument they have utilized since our 1934 victory was due to accident."

LABOR GROUPS IN OPPOSITION

American Federation Fights C.I.O. Campaign in North-eastern U.S.

Associated Press

Washington, March 5.—The unionization drive of the Committee for Industrial Organization encountered mounting opposition today from the American Federation of Labor and employees' groups.

Indicative of the A.F.O.L.'s determination to halt the advance of John L. Lewis's followers was an order to fight the C.I.O. shoe workers' organization campaign in New England.

Two A.F.O.L. units responded to president William Green's call to battle. The Maryland State Federation of Labor ordered city central bodies to suspend Lewis locals. The Cleveland central body suspended unions affiliated with the C.I.O.

The C.I.O. drive in the shoe industry seeks organization of all workers in one union.

Opposition to the C.I.O. from employee groups to the steel industry crystallized at a meeting in Pittsburgh. Partisans of the so-called "company unions," comprising a defence committee of employee representatives, mapped plans for combating the C.I.O. unionization drive among the nation's 850,000 steel workers.

Several A.F.O.L. organizers who solicited employees of the General Motors Fisher Body plant in Cleveland were chased from plant entrances by a group of 200 C.I.O. sympathizers.

MORE JOBLESS
Meanwhile, the ranks of jobless increased as new strikes broke out.

Approximately 10,000 workers were made idle by the closing of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. plants at Akron, O.

More than 100 salesgirls demanding more pay started the sixth day of their sit-down strike at an F. W. Woolworth Company 5-and-10-cent store in Detroit. Eleven women clerks occupied a second store.

CIVIL AVIATION
The air estimates include a vote of $2,315,000 for civil aviation. The projected air service between Bermuda and New York, to be operated by Imperial Airways in co-operation with Pan-American Airways, will be, it is hoped, inaugurated in April. Money provision is made for the agreed annual subsidy of $18,000 to Imperial Airways.

Port Alberni Council Claims New-born Child Cannot Have Residence Qualifications; Hospital Says Yes

Canadian Press
Port Alberni, B.C., March 5.—Mayor Walter Hamilton and his city councilors scratched worried heads today and tried to decide whether an unborn baby has full rights of a resident in this west coast Vancouver Island town. On their deliberations rests the fate of a Port Alberni hospital bill.

The British Columbia Hospital Act, the council learned, provides a municipality shall be liable—at 70 cents per day—for the bill of every patient treated at a hospital if the patient had lived in the municipality for three months.

The Port Alberni hospital board billed the city at the 70 cent rate for an unnamed woman patient and added another 70 cents daily for the baby, starting the day it was born.

"The baby is not a person until it is born and therefore cannot have had a three-month residence in the municipality," Mayor Hamilton argued. "The Hospital Act states the patient must declare he has resided in the city for three months before entering hospital, and I have never yet heard of a day-old baby being able to make such a declaration."

"Absurd," the hospital replied, "the baby was an unborn person, and if the mother has lived here three months then the child has also been here that long."

Dated of the bill will probably be decided at a council meeting later this month.

Port Alberni's "baby residence" case may be submitted to arbitration through the B.C. Department of Municipalities if the council and hospital authorities fail to reach a settlement, it was learned at the Legislative Buildings today.

According to precedent in Victoria, however, Mayor Hamilton will lose out and will have to pay the seventy-cent per day to the hospital for the newborn child.

Public Hospital officials said today the same question had arisen here some years ago. It was submitted to the board of referees in these matters and they ruled that the municipality must pay. An unborn child assumes the residence of its mother for such purposes, although there is no statement to this effect in the hospital act.

The whole point, it was learned, will be cleared up definitely when the new provincial residence act comes into effect shortly. This specifies that a child takes the residence of its parents, and also provides that a person must be a resident of a municipality for a year before the municipality can be charged for hospitalization on the seventy-cent rate.

U.S. President, Celebrating Election Victory, Appeals For Immediate Passage of Judicial Reorganization Measure So Social Changes Will Not Be Delayed

Associated Press
Washington, March 5.—President Roosevelt yesterday evening celebrated his election triumph with a new call to battle, a vigorous appeal for passage of his court reorganization bill to give the nation a clear "knowledge of what powers it has to serve its own citizens."

While a big hotel ballroom packed with top-ranking Democrats applauded every thrust, he turned the rapier of his famed eloquence on the Supreme Court and called for immediate action to end the deadlock between his administration and the judiciary.

He accused the court's conservative wing of letting its economic beliefs govern its judicial opinions, and asserted that by denying both state and federal governments authority to deal with social problems, it had produced a "no man's land of final futility."

NOT SEEKING THIRD TERM
Obviously replying to frequently voiced criticism of his court proposals—the dictatorship and constitutional amendment arguments—he disclaimed any intention of seeking a third term as President, and repeatedly asserted that the problems his administration would solve call for action "now."

"In this fight, as the lawyers themselves say, time is of the essence," he said. "... Every delay creates risks of intervening events which make more and more difficult an intelligent, speedy and democratic solution of our difficulties."

"As chief executive and as head of the Democratic Party, I am unwilling to take that risk—to the country and to the party—of postponing one moment beyond absolute necessity the time when we can free from legal doubt those policies which offer a progressive solution of our problems."

VICTORY DINNERS HELD
The occasion of the speech was the fourth anniversary of the President's first inauguration, chosen as the celebration day for his victory of last November. Victory dinners were held throughout the country, including one group on a ferry boat off Seattle. All heard the address by radio.

From a $100-per-plate charge for the dinner here, the fee was graduated downward to $2.50 in some places. Profits were scheduled to go to reduce the Democratic Party's campaign deficit.

Afterwards Charles Michelson, publicity director for the Democratic National Committee, estimated the dinners had raised at least $400,000 toward paying off the $420,000 deficit.

SINGLE SURVIVOR FROM MINED SHIP

Associated Press
Madrid, March 5.—One dying man—unable to tell a coherent story—was found by Catalan fishermen after the Greek tanker Lukia hit a mine off Cape Creus last night and blew up, reports from the northeast said today.

The tanker, loaded with gasoline, had a crew of twenty-four, yesterday's dispatches said.

The vessel carried no radio, but her cargo, ignited by the blast, served as a torch to attract other ships.

Associated Press
London, March 5.—Leading British steamship lines with vessels calling at Marseilles, announced today their ships would take the longer route east of the Balearic Islands to avoid floating mines off the Spanish Catalan coast.

SHELLS POURED INTO TOLEDO
Spanish Loyalist Artillery Pounds Alcazar City; Gain at Madrid

By JEAN ROLLIN
Havas Correspondent
Madrid, March 5.—Government artillery pounded Toledo today and militiamen scored an important victory in northwestern Madrid.

The second siege of the Toledo Alcazar entered its fourth day. The artillery barrage prevented insurgent counter-attacks against the 30,000 militiamen holding the Capuchinos district, south of the Alcazar.

The Clinical Hospital in University City, northwestern Madrid, partly collapsed during the night and appeared today to have been abandoned by the insurgents.

MEN CALLED TO ARMS
Associated Press
Salamanca, Spain, March 5.—Insurgent general headquarters issued a call to arms today for all men between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-seven, formerly registered by the government but now in insurgent-held territory.

All recruits declared capable of auxiliary service and about half of the 1936 class also were summoned for insurgent service.

INSURGENTS SURROUNDED
Bayonne, France, March 5.—Government militiamen penetrating to the heart of Ordoño, have isolated insurgent defenders in the provincial capital's cathedral and destroyed their barracks after desperate hand-to-hand fighting, reports from Gijon said today.

Government gunners reported they had destroyed "Folero barracks, one of the principal insurgent strongholds in the northern Spanish city."

FRANCE IS ACCUSED
Salamanca, Spain, March 5. (Associated Press).—The Spanish insurgent regime accused France today of fomenting disturbances in Spanish Morocco in order to force a pretext for invading the territory held by Generalissimo Francisco Franco's armies.

Declaring any attempt at aggression against Spanish Morocco would be met with "an adequate reply," the insurgent diplomatic cabinet lodged a strong note of protest with all signatory powers to the Algeiras Convention.

Franco's diplomatic cabinet announced the note denounced manoeuvres in the frontier region of French and Spanish Morocco.

London, March 5. (Canadian Press from Havas).—The Spanish insurgent protest against French activities in the Franco-Spanish frontier zone of Morocco "is packed with absurdities," The Manchester Guardian said today.

Reich Minister Leaves Hungary

Canadian Press
Paris, March 5.—The Havas News Agency, in a dispatch from Budapest today, said German Minister Hans George von Mackensen had suddenly left for Greece following reports that Hungarian authorities had foiled an attempted putsch organized by pro-Nazi with the backing of German funds.

Premier Koloman Daranyi, the dispatch said, was understood to have informed an important gathering of Hungarian officials that he had learned that certain rightist pro-Nazi groups supported by the Germanophile "Move" organization had plotted to seize control of the government.

The "move" is composed of many former army officers who have a powerful influence in the Hungarian army, police and civil service. It is known, the Havas dispatch said, that the organization has been spending money freely in recent weeks and that since the coming of Daranyi to power after the death of the Hungarian "strong man," General Jutits Goemboes, the Premier has been working to neutralize the Nazi tendencies of the extreme rightists.

TO AVOID REPERCUSSIONS
Absolute secrecy was maintained in official quarters regarding the putsch, the dispatch said. It was understood the government is determined to suppress all details with a view to averting an international scandal and European repercussions.

FREE TRADING ON GOLD IN FRANCE

deficit-ridden account sheet Premier Blum proclaimed a sweeping revision of his financial policy.

The premier promised the "needs of the Treasury will be brought to a figure which should not exceed the normal capacity of Treasury placements of loans."

TO REPARATIZE GOLD
He based his principal hopes on attracting hidden gold from hoarders' caches and repatriating French gold which has flowed outside the country in the last five months since the devaluation of October 1936.

"Half of these needs," he said, "correspond to the 19,000,000,000 francs ($883,500,000) in extraordinary defence credits for 1937."

This national defence financing, M. Blum asserted, will not allow any Frenchman to "plead his personal interests in order to dodge his civic obligations."

"The rest of the Treasury needs should be easily covered by normal operations in a short-term market," he added.

COMMISSION OF FOUR
The Premier announced a commission of four financial experts "will manage the equalization fund which has, by monetary law, all means necessary to assure defence of the franc with the duty to assure security of commerce and stability of prices."

STOCKS GAIN
French stocks showed substantial gains today, reflecting increased confidence in the government's revised financial policy.

Chemicals displayed the best gains, with banks, electricals and metals strong.

Some improvement was registered by Renten (government bonds) after nervousness from profit-taking yesterday.

LONDON EXCHANGE RATES
Associated Press
London, March 5.—The "statement" of Premier Blum that free trading in gold will be resumed next Monday in France had an unsettling effect on the French franc on the foreign exchange market today.

After the official market had closed, spot quotations on the franc slipped to 106.13 to the pound sterling. Early transactions had taken place at 105.15 to the pound, unchanged from yesterday.

Los Angeles, March 5. (Associated Press).—Edwin Jesup Marshall, seventy-eight, philanthropist, banker and rancher, frequently referred to as the last of California's "cattle barons," died yesterday.

CALIFORNIA DEATH
Ottawa, March 5. (Canadian Press).—Savings deposits Canadian chartered banks on January 30 were $1,548,604,580, a slight increase over the total on December 31, according to the monthly statement of the Finance Department. Demand deposits were about $38,000,000 lower at $644,267,905.

Quebec Plans Minimum Wage
Toronto, March 5.—Under Ontario's minimum wage set-up an industry and labor board will have wide powers in establishing standards of pay and hours of work for men. It was shown today in the proposed Minimum Wage Act. A bill was introduced in the Legislature yesterday by Hon. David A. Croil, Minister of Labor.

The board, established under other legislation still to be approved by the House, will fix minimum rates of wages for all employees and enact such provisions regarding employment as may be considered necessary for the "physical, moral and intellectual well-being of the employees."

Conventional of a minimum wage regulation will make an employer liable to a fine of not less than $25 for each employee affected or to a jail term not exceeding six months.

WORKING HOURS
Maximum number of hours of labor for which Ontario will establish a minimum weekly wage for male workers were set forth in copies of the act, which a bill proposes minimum wages shall apply will be: Forty-eight hours in municipalities having a population of more than 50,000; fifty hours in municipalities having a population of from 10,000 to 50,000; fifty-four hours in any other municipality, or in any locality which is not a municipality.

The minimum wage act "shall not apply to employees engaged as servants in any private residence, nor while engaged in farming operations."

QUEBEC PLAN
Quebec, March 5.—Quebec province will provide minimum wages for men in certain industries in a bill to be presented to the Legislature within a week, it was learned today.

The government plans a separate act to provide fair wages for men in various industries. Details of the act will not be made public until a committee has submitted its report, officials said.

COLUMNS IN PAPER
Berlin, March 5.—The United States embassy here today transmitted to Washington a full report on strictures against Mayor Fiorello La Guardia and "crime conditions" in New York, which appeared in Der Angriff, the newspaper of Dr. Joseph Goebbels, German Minister of Propaganda and Public Enlightenment.

The embassy made no comment on its report, forwarded to the State Department.

Der Angriff, which yesterday filled columns—as did other newspapers—with a stormy attack on Mayor La Guardia personally for his "hall of horrors" remark before a meeting of Jewish women, today ran a series of news photos intended to show New York and the United States as "the land of freedom—for all gangsters."

One picture showed a manacled prisoner, "bank robber No. 1... who has not yet reached the stage of mayor or governor."

Mayor La Guardia was quoted as having suggested at a luncheon of the women's division of the American Jewish Congress that the 1936 New York Fair have a "chamber of horrors" in which a European political figure be described as "that brown-shirted fanatic" would be the chief exhibit.

OPPOSE BOOST IN LICENSES

Vancouver Business Groups Tell Council Proposed Increase in Fees Unfair

Canadian Press
Vancouver, March 5.—Representatives of a number of Vancouver business associations appeared before the City Council yesterday and protested suggested increases in business licenses, which would add $100,000 to the city's revenue yearly.

I wish to protest in the strongest possible terms against being singled out to be penalized," F. K. Collins, representing three department stores, said. "This is discrimination of the worst kind, and an abuse of power if it doesn't even go beyond your power.

It amounts to penalizing us for efficiency and making progress a crime."
It was reported the suggested increases would boost license fees for these stores from $2,400 to $10,000 a year each.

A number of retail dealers said they would withdraw their objections to paying higher fees if they were protected against unlicensed competitors and unlicensed peddlers.

Gordon Wismer, K.C., M.P.P., speaking for the Hotelmen's Association, said his clients might find they had no objection after they had a chance to study the measure. He said they were paying a $1,000 license fee to the provincial government for beer parlors.

Bill to Borrow Big Sum Passed

British Commons Approves Government Plan For $2,000,000,000 Defence
Loans

Canadian Press
London, March 5.—The House of Commons yesterday evening approved the bill to authorize the government to borrow up to $400,000,000 ($2,000,000,000) over a five-year period for rearmament purposes. The bill now goes to the House of Lords.

A Labor amendment for rejection of the bill was defeated 241 to 117.
Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said Britain's proposed rearmament was a necessary preliminary to disarmament.

"We have no liability under the League covenant to go with our military forces to the assistance of other countries which may be the victims of aggression," he said in concluding the debate for the government.

"The Opposition," he said, "is always trying to read into the covenant more than is to be found there."

"The phrase 'collective security' is constantly used as though if we only supported collective security we might save ourselves many armaments. In my opinion it means not a decrease in armaments but an increase."

Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, long a critic of what he termed the government's tardiness in rearmament, said he believed the five-year defence plan had strengthened the ministry's parliamentary position and promised, if resolutely pursued, to put the country in a far safer and more agreeable position than it has held since German rearmament began in earnest.

"But," he warned the House yesterday, "we for the time being are not any longer entirely masters of our own fate. Much depends on what happens elsewhere in the world. After 1,000 years of independence it is hard for the people to realize this ugly and unpleasant alteration."

Big U.S. Election Outlays Scanned

Senate Committee Says Campaign Expenditures
Last Fall $48,000,000

Associated Press
Washington, March 5.—The United States Senate campaign expenditures committee disclosed yesterday that political parties, their major candidates and a host of independent organizations spent $23,973,329 in the 1936 presidential campaign.

It was by far the most costly in the history of the United States.
The committee's final report, recommending drastic tightening of election laws, said the total cost of the election might approach $48,000,000, if the "tremendous volume" of money spent by individuals and local organizations could be counted.

The Republican National Committee and allied organizations spent $14-198,202, while similar groups supporting President Roosevelt paid out $9,228,406.

The total campaign expenditure averaged fifty-two cents for every ballot cast.
The investigators urged new legislation to halt coercion of voters, clarify reporting of expenditures and forbid political contributions by labor unions.

Joseph Hocking, Novelist, Dies

Author of Fifty Books Passes Away in Cornwall, England

Canadian Press
London, March 5.—Joseph Hocking, the novelist, died yesterday at his Cornwall home. A prolific writer, Hocking reached perhaps the height of his career with his war stories that achieved wide circulation, among them being "All for a Scrap of Paper," "Tommy" and "The Path of Glory."
He began writing in 1891 with "Jabez Esterbrook," and turned out more than fifty novels, his last being "Deep Calleth Deep," published in 1936.

A native of St. Stephen's, Cornwall,
Mr. Hocking was survived by four daughters. His only son was killed in the Great War. He was a Nonconformist minister from 1884 to 1910 when he retired.

British to Study Ethics of News

Canadian Press from Havas
London, March 5.—"Unwarrantable intrusion by newspapers into private family affairs and other unprofessional practices in the collection of news" will be studied by a conference sponsored by the Institute of Journalists, the National Union of Journalists, the Newspaper Proprietors' Association, the Newspaper Society and various other organizations in the news field, it was announced yesterday.

A recent questionnaire showed British editors in general opposed to "needless intrusion on private life," but in many cases lack of police and other official information was blamed as making the alleged invasions necessary.

Madrid Hoots At Hollywood Battle

Associated Press
Madrid, March 5.—War, thrills in Hollywood fashion brought derisive hoots yesterday from a motion picture theatre audience in Madrid, where the real thing is a part of the daily life.

"Pull down the shade, you fool!"
the audience shouted when one of the film characters, during a night air raid, rushed into a room, turned on the lights and started dashing off a dramatic letter of farewell.

H. J. Ash, Social Credit member for Olds, made the suggestion in the Alberta Legislature and he hoped it would be accepted quickly "before some hide-bound politician is sent down there."

Many Tin Cans In New Arms Race

Canadian Press
Windsor, Ont., March 5.—The race in armaments in Europe has not only accentuated movement of reclaimed metals. It has found a use for discarded tin cans.

"In the last few months there has been a sharp movement of steel to the seaboard for armament purposes," a dealer here said today. "For the last twenty-five years, tin cans have accumulated in garbage dumps throughout the country. Truckers, who can load a ton in a couple of hours, are getting a good wage."

dion.

Riot Mentioned In the Commons

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 5.—Rioting between strikers and non-strikers at the Holmes foundry at Sarnia last Wednesday, was called to the attention of the House of Commons yesterday afternoon by J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader. He wanted to know if the federal department of labor planned an independent inquiry.

Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Labor, said he had assured Mr. Gray, Liberal, West Lambton, Ont., the department would intervene if it could be of assistance. He understood the Mayor of Sarnia was making an investigation and that the dispute was settled.

"Is this not a matter that concerns
the whole country?" asked Mr.
Woodsworth. "It seems to me the department might well be asked to do something."

Explaining his question, the Winnipeg member said it appeared the foundry was owned by United States interests and the workers were simply asking the same wage and other concessions which had been secured across the border. He charged union men had been assaulted.

Funerals Of Jobless Paid For

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, March 5.—Questions about what happens to the bodies of unemployed single men after they die were raised yesterday by Lt. St. George Stubbs, Winnipeg, Independent, before the Manitoba Legislature committee on law amendments, considering a bill to revise the Manitoba Anatomy Act.

"How many unemployed single men on relief died during the depression years?" Mr. Stubbs asked. "Of these, how many corpses were handed to medical colleges?"

"Is it true that pieces of different bodies are buried together, unidentified?" he asked.

Mrs. Stewart-Hay, secretary of the Social Welfare Committee of Winnipeg, said proper burials were provided for all indigents. The cost was set by agreement with the undertakers.

Minimum Wage Plan in Ontario

Canadian Press
Toronto, March 5.—Legislation to provide minimum wages for men was announced in the Ontario Legislature yesterday by Hon. David Croll, Minister of Labor.

Mr. Croll introduced a bill to amend the "Minimum Wage Act," which now applies only to women workers in industry.

"We feel the act will serve the cause of industrial peace, that it is an answer to the vexing and disturbance economic problems troubling Ontario and the rest of the world," said Mr. Croll.

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 5.—The Senate yesterday gave third reading to six bills confering Dominion incorporation on five insurance companies and one benevolent association which have been operating under provincial charters.

They are: The Toronto General Insurance Company, Toronto, with a capitalization of $600,000; the Gore District Mutual Fire Insurance Company, Galt, Ont.; the Sterling Insurance Company of Canada, Quebec, with a capitalization of $1,000,000;
the Federal Insurance Company of Canada, Toronto, capitalization $1-000,000; the Wellington Fire Insurance Company, Toronto, capitalized at $1,000,000; the Sons of Scotland Benevolent Association, Toronto, which has had an Ontario charter for more than forty years.

Say Singapore Is Invulnerable

Large Scale Manoeuvres Prove British Base Cannot Be Captured, State Tacticians

Canadian Press, Reuters
Singapore, March 5.—The Singapore defence manoeuvres, tacticians believe, proved the invulnerability of this important British naval and air base.

The manoeuvres were the largest combined exercises so far held by British forces east of the Mediterranean. Army, navy and air force units participated.

Observers noted the flying-boat patrol which scored the Chint Besa to a radius of 200 miles from Singapore for invading ships succeeded in their task. The manoeuvres are considered to have demonstrated the wisdom of the Royal Air Force expansion policy, which includes establishment of airmen in Sarnak, about 400 miles east of Singapore.

The "enemy" aircraft carrier was twice sighted and attacked by Singapore bomber and torpedo bomber warplanes before she could launch any of her own aircraft.

Several attempts by landing parties to gain a foothold at Singapore were frustrated by the defending forces.

PRIZES GIVEN FOR ACTING

Luise Rainer and Paul Muni Voted Awards at Hollywood

Associated Press
Hollywood, Cal., March 5.—Luise Rainer yesterday evening was voted the award of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences for the best performance by an actress in 1936, for her work in "The Great Ziegfeld." Paul Muni was given the award for the best performance by an actor, for his portrayal of the title role in "The Story of Louis Pasteur."

Awards for the best supporting actress and actor went to Gail Son-den and Robert Montgomery, respectively, for their work in "Anthony Adverse," and to Walter Brennan for his performance in "Come and Get It."

The best production was voted to have been "The Great Ziegfeld." Frank Capra won the best direction award for his "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town."

Miss Rainer, expatriate from the European stage, gained her signal honour in her second film here.

Critics generally were of the opinion that Spencer Tracy as the priest in "San Francisco" ran Muni the closest race.

The other three nominations for best actor were Gary Cooper, Walter Huston and William Powell, appearing respectively in "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," "Dodsworth" and "My Man Godfrey."

Pitted against Miss Rainer were Irene Dunn in "Theodora Goes Wild," Gladys George in "Valiant is the Word for Carrie," Carole Lombard in "My Man Godfrey" and Norma Shearer in "Romeo and Juliet."

Frank Capra won the award for direction for the second consecutive year. Last year he scored with "It Happened One Night."

The production award of merit for
"The Great Ziegfeld" aroused, perhaps, the most argument by "experts."
Some thought that "Dodsworth,"
"Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" or "The Story of Louis Pasteur" would have been a happier choice.

Comment was heard that the largess and spectacular tone of "Ziegfeld" blinded the judges to sunder and more fundamental virtues.

Walt Disney, with his Mickey Mouse "Country Cousin," won the best cartoon award for the fifth consecutive year.

No Broadcasts From Commons

Ottawa, March 5.—Debates of the House of Commons will not be broadcast, the government has decided.
Answering a question on the matter,
asked by W. A. Tucker, Liberal, Rosthern, Sask., Prime Minister King yesterday told the House: "I might say the government does not think it advisable to broadcast the debates of the House of Commons."

Canada League Status Studied

Question If Dominion to Continue as Member May Come Before Imperial Conference; Possible War Embarrassment Foreseen

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 5.—Reports were current today that one of the questions Canada's delegation will bring before the Imperial Conference in London next May will be whether this country should remain a member of the League of Nations.

Many persons prominent in government circles have expressed frank anxiety about responsibilities which would rest on this country if, say, Japan, a non-member, and Russia, a member of the League, should become involved in war.

It is noted the estimates this year provide $242,390 for Canada's activities at Geneva, but members of Parliament are less concerned about the money than they are about the embarrassing position in which Canada might be placed under the League covenant should war break out in Europe or Asia in which Empire countries were not directly involved.

The Voice of Democracy

TO MILLIONS OF PEOPLE OVER the air last night President Roosevelt made it quite clear that he intends his bill to reorganize the Supreme Court of the United States will, and must, go through. His address was described as a new call to battle, a suggestion to the nation that it has a clear knowledge of what powers it has to serve its own citizens.

Mr. Roosevelt has the fortunate capacity of being able to speak to the man in the street in terms easily understandable. He does not use verbal garnishings. It is his habit to call a spade as it should be called. In this he displays his thorough democracy. The President has no axe to grind. He depends upon no political coterie for material emoluments. When he first saw the light of day, figuratively speaking, the "gilded spoon" was within his grasp.

A former President of the United States, of course, was not as fortunate in the material sense; but he did succeed in that sense. Yet in his political makeup there did not seem room for an understanding of the plight of the "forgotten man." And as he sits in the cool shades of political oblivion he may perhaps be speculating on the wisdom of his political course. Indeed, he may be pondering over the suggestion that he, Herbert Hoover, is the real "forgotten man" in those United States on the south of us.

This week-end President Roosevelt will welcome to the White House at Washington Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada. We do not know, and perhaps we may not be permitted to know, what they will talk about. It can be taken for granted, however, that their conversation will be one having for its main theme the interests of the average man and woman in the street.

Labor Wins

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS IN Great Britain as a rule are no indication of the trend of political thought as it applies to the selection of members for the House of Commons. But it is generally conceded that the Municipal Reform Party—the Tory organization—has suffered another defeat.

What the electors of London, or elsewhere, for that matter, do is their own business. At the same time, it may be permitted at this distance from the scene, to wonder whether the great vote for armaments passed by the House of Commons had something to do with the balancing in London yesterday.

As this is written the party standing is as follows: Labor seventy-five and Municipal Reformers forty-nine. As Mr. George Hambleton, the Canadian Press staff writer, says in his dispatch to The Times today:

Labor lost four seats, but gained ten and thus enters the new council with a net gain of six. The Municipal Reformers lost ten and gained four. Their net loss is six.

Labor again wins after a strenuous battle to oust them from control. In 1934, for the first time in the history of London, Labor won the fight with a net gain of thirty-four seats. The Municipal Reformers had a net loss of twenty-eight seats. The Liberals lost all their seats. Labor now increases its majority on the council from fourteen to twenty-six. Total membership of the council is 124.

"Thank you very much, London," said Herbert Morrison, Labor leader of the London County Council, when he learned of the result. "This is a splendid vote of confidence. I think we deserve it. But it is a great thing that London recognizes a good job. Now we are going on to finish the job."

"One of the most gratifying features is the increased poll. We did our best to fight apathy and it was we, the Labor council, that secured longer polling hours. I am proud of the big poll. I always wanted it. Our opponents will now have to give up the argument they have utilized that our 1934 victory was due to accident."

The Municipal Reformers' heaviest losses in the election were in St. Pancras, where Labor returned six members. On the old council each of the two parties had three members from this division.

Progressive Lines Drawn

BY ITS REFUSAL TO CO-OPERATE in an alignment of Left Wing parties, the Liberal Party has dealt a severe blow to the Popular Front movement in England.

The scheme for the formation of a "fighting Left Wing" was put forward some months ago, when prominent Socialist leaders agreed to sink their differences and unite in a "Popular Front" on the same lines as those established in France and Spain.

Sir Stafford Cripps, leader of the Intellectual Socialist League, was expelled from the Labor Party because he joined with the Independent Labor Party, under Mr. James Maxton, and the Communist Party led by Mr. Harry Pollitt. The Socialist League, although comparatively small in numbers, is by no means a negligible factor, for in its ranks are the cream of the Left Wing intellectuals. It is realized that it is bad policy, both on political and tactical grounds for the Labor Party thus to deprive itself of its intellectuals.

The United Front parties have left the official Labor Party far behind in their veer to the Left, and they regard much of the Trade Union policy as hopelessly conservative, "bourgeois" and "capitalist." They claim to be the only true Socialists and demand the advent of Socialism in the present generation. Many of the official Labor leaders, on the other hand, pin their faith to the theory of gradual evolution to the "perfect Socialist State."

The Liberal Party's reply to the Popular Front proposal is in the form of a letter to Mr. Aldous Huxley, the famous author and leader of the "For Intellectual Liberty" Group. Failing an agreement on a programme of practical reform and a system of proportional representation, the letter says, a "deal" about seats is the only way of realising the Popular Front. "Liberals are not prepared to accept dictation," it goes on, "and any attempt to negotiate such a pact would invite the charge of gerrymandering, increase the suspicion of politicians and play into the hands of Fascists and others who are so busily trying to discredit parliamentary government."

The letter begins with an expression of "warm sympathy" with the motives prompting the appeal made last October for the formation of a United Front, which bore the signatures of a number of well-known people. These included Dr. Barnes, Bishop of Birmingham; Lord Horder, the King's physician; Sir Norman Angell, the famous economist; Mr. Aldous Huxley and his brother, Professor Julian Huxley, and Mr. J. B. Priestley, the novelist.

"We propose," the Liberal letter adds, "that all, irrespective of party attachments, who genuinely believe in the League system, should join in mobilising opinion to compel the government to give a lead in lowering trade barriers, in providing effective means for the examination and redress of international grievances, in making collective security—so vital to our own defence—a reality, and in promoting the limitation and reduction of armaments. If the Popular Front means anything it means (1) agreement between what are called 'the progressive parties' on a programme, domestic as well as international, and (2) an electoral bargain whereby they undertake to get out of each others' way in the constituencies."

On fundamentals, Liberal and Socialist parties are deeply divided, as this Liberal letter to Prof. Huxley emphasizes anew. Liberals stand for the diffusion of private enterprise and ownership, which the nationalization of all the means of production, distribution and exchange would involve. Moreover, they contest the right to call itself democratic of a party which regards its M.P.'s as delegates, not representatives, and which would make Parliament subservient to the dictation of outside bodies.

The Economic Flounder

THE ABERHART GOVERNMENT of Alberta is having more difficulties than most governments of the world. Yesterday, at Edmonton, Mr. A. L. Blue, Social-Credit member for Ribstone, proposed that the Legislature engage a Social Credit technician to "plan a new economic order for the province."

The whole episode, we are told, brought into the open a movement which has been reported for several days. Back-bench supporters of the government have been reported dissatisfied with progress of the government in establishing Social Credit. The movement gained momentum after Premier Aberhart's admission last Sunday that he had failed to pay Social Credit dividends in the eighteen months' time limit he set in the election campaign and which expired last Tuesday.

Our friends in the neighboring province are having a very disturbing time. Political experimentation, of course, if it is to be conducted successfully, must be backed by the guiding genius of a master mind—perhaps a master political mind—who thinks in terms of common sense.

Leave It To Them

WOULD IT NOT BE IN BETTER taste if certain Canadian newspapers tried to forget that the policy of the British Admiralty must be conducted from London?

The stupid suggestion that it would be "a work of supererogation for Mr. Mackenzie King and his colleagues at the forthcoming Imperial Conference to ask Great Britain to do what she has done in the past, what she is doing and what she will continue to do," is to ignore the fundamentals of empire defence.

It was a great British admiral a few years before the Great War broke out who said to a Canadian statesman: "What the . . . (fill in the words yourself) do you want to build a navy for? We have to police the seven seas in our own interests."

We may not have used the same words the famous British admiral used; but they convey the meaning he intended to convey to this country.

Notes

Too often the problem child is one who knows all the answers.

Now, it seems, workers start at the bottom of the ladder and sit down.

It is the season when Willie has to explain how "exemption for dependents" got into his homework example.

Apparently, at last Victoria is to have a crematorium, to be built at the Royal Oak Burial Park. To those who have noted the number of shipments to Vancouver and Seattle for cremation the need of such a plant here has long been obvious. It ought to go through.

Loose Ends

The trouble here is lack of winter, which you will find hard to believe—Tossie melts statemen and they talk to him through a heater—The French grow articulate—Senator Dandurand carries on an old tradition.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

WINTERS, VARIOUS

THEY COMPLAIN bitterly down here in Ottawa, as you do in Victoria, about the winter, but for opposite reasons. In Victoria you have had too much winter. In Ottawa and the whole of Ontario they haven't had enough. There is no snow for skating, and to the young idea skating is now the only surviving religion.

The Ottawa merchants are growing rather desperate about it. They loaded up with ski togs and equipment of every sort, and now you can buy it for half its regular price. But you can't use it, unless you want to go far into the Laurentians, for Ottawa is covered with snow which has melted and frozen again into glare ice. People walk in a kind of animal crouch with their heads down, watching every step. When spring comes they will be unable to lift their faces and look at the sun.

In Montreal the other night the big Windsor Station was jammed with gay boys and girls in their bright ski costumes. They had come up from New York, five special trainloads of them, and had penetrated far into the Quebec wilderness in search of snow.

The ski craze is becoming an important Canadian industry, and the transportation and hotel industry is doing everything possible to develop it. A few years ago, if you wandered into the elegant old Windsor Hotel wearing a black peaked cap, a scarlet jumper, thick navy's boots, and carrying two iron-pointed bamboo stakes and a couple of wooden sledge runners, you would have been chucked out. Now you can wander about like that and you are in the height of fashion. The more outlandish your garb, the smarter, if you can boast a broken ankle as well, you belong to the elite.

TOSSIE

THE CHIEF BARBER in the Chateau Laurier is called Tossie. He is French-Canadian, with auburn hair, a superbly waxed little mustache, a song in his heart and a way with him. Tossie, they say, is the best-informed man in Canada. He shaves prime ministers, opposition leaders and statesmen of all sorts, major and minor. They pour out their souls, as men will do in a barber's chair, to Tossie.

When Tossie shaves Mr. Bennett the ritual is elaborate and rich. Tossie piles steaming hot towels, one, two and three, on Mr. Bennett's face, and whistles a little French-Canadian tune. He whips up a huge lather and hums an old voyageur's song that his fathers used to sing on the Ottawa long ago. Then, as he piles his razor, Tossie discusses the affairs of the day with a former prime minister, an Empire statesman, in the most confidential fashion.

If you are in the next chair you try to eavesdrop, of course, but you won't hear anything private. Tossie is too direct. He listens, head cocked on one side, to the mumbles that come through the hot towels, he whispers cautiously into Mr. Bennett's ear. They both roar with laughter at some private joke, which must be good. Mr. Bennett has time to laugh these days, and this makes Tossie happy.

Some say that Mr. Bennett and Mr. King, dissolved by Tossie's steaming towels and thick lather, melted by his lotions and ointments, tell him everything. Others say the talk is of small things and that is why statesmen like Tossie—he takes their minds off their troubles. Anyway, he turns out a lovely article, shaved close, smoothed out, clipped, trimmed, perfumed, youthful looking. Mr. King and Mr. Bennett could hardly carry on at all, they say, without Tossie.

GRAND SEIGNEUR

SENATOR DANDURAND is the most perfect relic of old Canada now extant. He is French to the fingertips, a grand seigneur by tradition and by instinct. If you were to put a plumed hat on him, a sword and a pair of jack-boots, he would look precisely like those splendid old Frenchmen who first settled Canada, like Frontenac and La Salle and Champlain. The race, in men like Dandurand, hasn't altered a whit.

His white beard is trimmed short. His pink complexion, despite his advanced age, is like a baby's. His eyes sparkle and dance. His beautiful hands are never still and he uses them as only a Frenchman can, with rhythmic gestures, as if he were conducting an orchestra. Set him down in the court of the Sun King and he would be perfectly at home. If you want to realize that there are two distinct races in Canada, just watch Dandurand leading the Senate. Here is an elegance, a flair, an instinct for the dramatic which no Britisher ever could hope to possess.

HAS ANYONE THIS ADDRESS?

To the Editor:—In view of the fact that the British Government is obviously assisting General Francisco Franco, "the man with the soul of a house," it must have taken a lot of courage to write the editorial, "Christian Warfare." I want to contribute to Dr. Bethune's noble cause. Is there anyone in Victoria who takes contributions for him or should the money be sent direct to Montreal?

"THE 'ASHES' DOWN UNDER LIE"

To the Editor:—I was very pleased to read your editorial under this heading. It is nice to think that in these days of commercialism the press still has men able to sit down and devote time to a topic such as the above. The member of your editorial staff, who put pen to paper, possesses the knowledge and the right touch, and should be congratulated on the sentiments expressed therein. "The 'Ashes' Down Under Lie" pays tribute to the present great cricketer, Don Bradman, but at the same time does not overlook many trophies of former days—true sportsmen who always "played the game."

TRIBUTE TO AN EFFICIENT POLICEMAN
To the Editor:—It would indeed seem a glaring oversight, if not ingratitude, if in some way we did not publicly acknowledge appreciation of the splendid public service rendered this city for the past ten years by my employee, Miss Walker, policewoman.

Through the resignation of Miss Walker we lose one whose untiring efforts have been to protect and help women and children. The results of her work have been most gratifying to all interested citizens, more especially by those who had occasion to know Miss Walker in her special work.

The public may never know what a debt of gratitude is due Miss Walker, not only as a public servant having performed her arduous duties well, but for much selflessness in work accomplished outside hours of duty. Fortunately, we are not to lose Miss Walker, as her good influence will remain in the same channels of law and order for which Victoria citizens in general are very grateful. May I extend heartfelt thanks for effective service rendered our city and with the very best of good wishes for Miss Walker in her new sphere.

Trade

BY ALEXANDER HAMILTON
PROTECTION has had its innings throughout the world. What are the effects of that policy? Has it abolished unemployment or increased wages? Has it established a single industry except at the expense of other industries? Has it promoted friendship and good-will between nations? Not one of these nor any other good thing has it done.

The United States of America is a country of varied climatic conditions, almost unlimited natural resources, and is inhabited by a vast number of enlightened, inventive, industrious, progressive people. No country is so self-contained, so independent of other countries. If any country on the planet is capable of enduring such a policy of isolation, surely it is that country. Yet many Americans believe that protection is a mistaken policy.

Here is an extract from "Ethics of Democracy," by the late Louis F. Post, Assistant Secretary of Labor in President Wilson's Cabinet, which is very much to the point:

"The great promoter of civilization is trade. Not the trade that is said to follow the flag. Not the trade that consists of exporting, without importing. Not any kind of strangled trade. But free trade."

"Left to itself, trade penetrates from every centre into every nook and cranny of the inhabited globe. As it extends, it carries with it a knowledge of the best customs and ideals, as well as the best goods, that the world has to offer the world. Thus the best in all things conquers peacefully, when trade is free to stimulate peaceful intercourse and exchange."

"Free trade between the individual states is the real substance of the American Union. Abolish our domestic trade freedom and there would be chaos here. Abolish the political union, but preserve the trade freedom, and we should hardly be conscious of the change. This is the real alliance that makes the States one."

"It is this kind of alliance that would unite us to Canada, to New Zealand, to Great Britain, to Asia, to Africa, to all the civilized and uncivilized people of the world, in bonds of perpetual friendship and mutual service. It would not require any treaties. Nothing is necessary but to abolish the trade barriers which we ourselves have created. If we abolish ours, other nations would not long maintain theirs."

These be true words. The repeal of the Corn Laws was what made the Old Country great. The repeal of Protectionism in the United States would make America much greater and would have vastly better and, as things are now, more beneficial results the world over. The stimulus to production and exchange resulting from such a release can hardly be imagined. It would instantly quicken the pulse of commerce everywhere. It would be a world-shaking event.

There isn't a doubt that Canada would quickly reciprocate. The policy that has so nearly strangled the giant to the south of us is simply suicidal here. With our small, thinly scattered population and abundance of raw material our choice is between buying, selling and being prosperous, or stagnation and reversion to barbarism.

DEER PLENTIFUL IN HURON

Residents of the Bayfield district report an increasing number of deer in the bushland, to be seen almost any day of the week. One man states his belief there must be 100 deer between Bayfield and Varna. He reported seeing eleven during a short walk along the river bank. Deer also are said to be plentiful in the northern end of the county. They are almost displacing jack-rabbits as a problem and a menace to crops.

A CHEAP HOUSE

A figure quoted in the House by Mr. Dunning is of the utmost interest. He said that plans had recently been approved for a house costing $2,700, including the land. This model house would have a living room, kitchen, bathroom, three bedrooms, full basement and central heat. And an owner could finance it for $14.12 a month. This is indeed "the stuff to live the troops," if it can be done without jerrybuilding.

Sore Throat Pains
DUE TO COLDS
Eased Instantly

1. Crush and stir 3 "Aspirin" tablets in ½ glass of water.

3. Repeat gargle and do not rinse mouth, allow gargle to remain on membranes of the throat for prolonged effect.

Just Gargle This Way with "ASPIRIN"

Here is the most amazing way to ease the pains of rawness of sore throat resulting from a cold we know you have ever tried. Crush and dissolve three "ASPIRIN" tablets in one-third glass of water. Then gargle with this mixture twice, holding your head well back. This medicinal gargle will act almost like a local anesthetic on the sore, irritated membrane of your throat. Pain eases almost instantly; rawness is relieved. Countless thousands now use this way to ease sore throat. Your doctor, we are sure, will approve it. And you will say it is marvelous. "Aspirin" tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited, of Windsor, Ontario. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

Letters To The Editor

"PROTECTOR" OF MORALS

To the Editor:—I was surprised to read a special article from London in which Mr. Baldwin is called a "king-breaker" and much commended for having assumed the role of "protector" of English morals.

This reference to morals must offend persons who greatly admire and respect ex-king Edward. Indeed, Mr. Baldwin himself, in a speech in the House of Commons, paid a striking tribute to King Edward's character.

CHALLENGES DR. DAVIES' PROPHECY

To the Editor:—Dr. Clem Davies has just published his "book," which seems to be trying to stir up public opinion against the Jews, accused of even being at the bottom of the plot which bumped Edward VIII off the throne. What a pity if this Jew-baiting ever spreads to Victoria! Dr. Davies says there may be no Coronation this year, as the Lord is returning immediately. Will not this teaching cause confusion and mischief? Many people who go to hear Dr. Davies tell me they go for entertainment. What a pity the young ones are learning to mock at sacred Scripture.

I should like to inform all the people who heard Dr. Davies say that Beverley Baxter wrote "Cry Havoc" that it was written by an Oxford Group man, Beverley Nichols.

HAS AN IDEA FOR ANOTHER TAX

To the Editor:—I want to offer a suggestion to the powers that be for a new tax, in a place where it can be afforded and not felt too much. A nice nest egg could be put away from this tax for next Christmas. If divided equally among the municipalities, it would serve as a great help to brighten the homes at Yuletide with food and fuel where needed. Start now so there will be no disappointments. I understand that grand organization, the Gyros, will not be on hand this year. Too bad! They have done a great work and no matter who criticized their efforts, many were made happy, and that is what counts, especially at Christmas.

So here is my suggestion for a new tax: put a one cent tax on every share that is sold on the stock exchange or bond houses. No one would miss one cent per share to a good cause to go to hospitals or the needy, or both.

FROM AN EXPERIENCED HOSPITAL PATIENT

To the Editor:—Hans Kroeger appears to be in great mental distress over the fact that visitors were not allowed in the hospital during the "flu" epidemic. I have been a patient in nearly every ward in the old part of the Jubilee Hospital since 1922. I know all the old-time orderlies and workmen; also, the supervisors and many of the nurses. In times of epidemics such as the "flu," precautions have to be taken both for the safety of the patients, staff and also visitors. In the year 1923 all nurses and maids had precautionary treatment given against "hospital sore throat." Several were off duty that winter. My brother, a returned soldier, was in a Regina hospital a few years ago as a T.B. patient and contracted typhoid fever. His son at a later date was in for an operation. Two days after discharge, he was back in isolation, "amalgam" and my brother and his family were quarantined. So, if Mr. Kroeger is still feeling sore at not seeing outside friends, it is his own fault if he does not make friends of his fellow sufferers and members of the hospital staff. But it may be as well for all concerned if he omits to declaim against capitalism as the man on his right may be stone deaf, and on his left in great pain.

WANTS MOTOR LICENSE DATE EXTENDED

To the Editor:—It is doubtless the first duty of a Liberal government to be liberal in its dealings.

In view of the additional hardship incurred by the recent abnormal snow and impossibility of the icy roads to unsalaried persons, farmers and men isolated in camps, who are paying board without wages coming in, it would be a friendly and liberal gesture if the government would yet bring in a late-hour ruling to extend the motor license date a further month.

To the Editor:—You're a correspondent called Atter. A purveyor of most amusing chatter.

Whose views on economics Are fit for the comics. And grow flatter and flatter and flatter.

His references to Social Credit Are entirely devoid of merit. They reveal a mind Absolutely blind To the creation of credit and debit.

And so, my dear Mr. Atter, Please cut out your critical chatter. Don't be in a hurry; Take some time to study. And some day you may master the matter.

"BILL" SHAKESPEAR.

NO BATH FOR TWO YEARS

To the Editor:—I am a relief worker with two babies, aged one and two years, respectively. Having been unemployed for three years, and knowing how hopeless this economic system has become, I would like to voice my complaints through the medium of your paper.

Food prices have increased 20 per cent, but our relief allowance remains the same. For two years we have been without a bath and hot water, as the city only grants us $5.50 a month for rent, and no agent will give a decent house for this amount.

After paying rent, fuel and light bills, we have the large amount of 14½ cents each, per day, for food, and the relief authorities say we must do a decent day's work, or be struck off the rolls.

I hope the mayor and city council read this letter, and by so doing may realize that our poor taxpayers believe their hard-earned money go to them who are in dire need, and not to pay large salaries for administration.

I sincerely hope that the relief committee realize we are human beings and make some effort to have our standard of living increased, as they are the only body we relief workers can directly protest to.

Our wives and children are not getting the proper nourishment, and the houses we are forced to live in

are a disgrace to any civilized country.

We relief workers are not much better than chattel slaves, for our position in society is of the lowest grade. We get too little to live on and too much to die. INDIGENT. Simcoe Street.

PROTESTS FROM HALF-FORGOTTEN CONSUMER

To the Editor:—A short time ago I noticed in your columns a lady protesting against the general advance in prices. It seems to me that the press should be giving a little more attention to the jump in prices—a vital matter to the community at large.

The advance in bread prices was a wicked imposition, and now we have the advance in milk prices!

Why should these monopoly groups have the liberty to decide among themselves on a drastic advance in prices regardless of the position of the consumer.

The trend seems to be to jump prices wherever there is the slightest opening, using as an excuse the so-called return to prosperity figures emanating from trade statistics covering the Dominion.

Analysis will show that these figures apply principally to the manufacturers of eastern Canada and that there is practically no improvement in western Canada, except in lumber and mining, which benefits but a small proportion of our people. Those who are benefiting from the above are just the same people who have had all the steady work during the depression—and, in most cases, are now getting advanced wages. In other lines workers are asking as high as 40 per cent increase, all these advances to be paid for mainly from two-thirds of the people who are worse off now than during the depression, viz., people with incomes which have been reduced through default, refunding, etc., and unemployed (not relief people) whose resources are exhausted.

Why ruin the opportunity to emerge from the depression in a sound, business-like way—that is, by enabling the consumer to continue to consume instead of stifling the prospect of increased consumption by allowing the minority groups to make their big grab while the going is good.

In Britain, when a price or wage is to be advanced, it may be from only 2 per cent to 5 per cent. But here the advance is 15 per cent for bread, 25 per cent for milk, 40 per cent for certain wages—in a country which has to toe the line to keep clear of bankruptcy. Well, it is time the public woke up and said "No" to some of the racket.

MAY APPROVE CREMATORIUM

City and Saanich Finance Committees to Seek Guarantee of Bonds

Plans for the construction of a reinforced concrete crematorium at Royal Oak Burial Park were approved by the finance committees of the Victoria and Saanich Councils following a meeting yesterday afternoon with the board of cemetery trustees of Greater Victoria.
The finance groups undertook to recommend to their respective councils that the board's 4 per cent bonds required to raise $16,000 for the project be guaranteed by Victoria and Saanich.
The trustees would, under the arrangements suggested yesterday, borrow the sum required to build the structure and issue bonds to cover the loan at an interest rate of 4 per cent.

The need for such a structure was emphasized at the meeting over which Mayor Andrew McGahey presided.
At next Monday's council meeting the city will be asked for permission to call for tenders for the work.
The Royal Oak Burial Park is jointly administered by Victoria and Saanich.
When they pleaded guilty in Saanich Police Court yesterday to a joint charge of stealing seven stanchions, Harold Bukin was fined $25 and Alfred E. Hibbans was allowed suspended sentence by Magistrate Henry Hall. The stanchions were stolen from the farm of Josiah Bull. Chief Allan Rankin gave evidence of finding them cached at Bukin's home.
An attempt to raise the sunken liner Lusitania may be made this year.

SOOKE

On Monday evening, in the Sooke Community Hall, H. Thompson of Victoria showed moving pictures of the Vimy Pilgrimage.

The monthly meeting of the Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. K. Grainger on Tuesday evening. It was decided to continue the regular series of card parties during the present month.

PORT ALBERNI

Port Alberni, March 5.—On Wednesday evening a group of district skiers met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Ayliffe to honor Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dunham (nee Georgia McGonigal). A presentation was made to the young couple by Mr. Chris Johnson on behalf of the ski club. The evening was spent in games, cards and table tennis. Others present were the Misses Margaret Wretznowski, Lila Smith, Evelyn Maralla, Doris and Pixie Ayliffe, Messrs. Ose Simpson, George Trotter, Pete Demens and McMillan. Mr. George Tater, former city business man and now owner of the Courtenay Hotel at Courtenay, is a visitor in Port Alberni this week. A business change of interest was effected this week when Macdonald's Pharmacy of this city purchased the business of the Alberni Drug Store at Alberni. Mr. D. Galliford, manager of the latter, will be employed in the Macdonald store in Port Alberni.

Mrs. Don Bickerton and two children left yesterday morning to spend a few days visiting relatives and friends at New Westminster.

Pat had been out of work in the potteries for four years when he got a good job. Unfortunately, during the first week he dropped a statue and was told he would have to pay the price—£150—at sixpence a week. Next week he dropped a piece of work valued at £200. So he said to his workmates, "Begorrah, I've got a job for loife."

Mother-in-law Day Latest Idea

Associated Press
Amarillo, Texas, March 5.—This is mother-in-law day in the Lone Star State. Gene Howe, the self-styled "Thelma Texan," started it.

He referred in light vein to his mother-in-law as "the standing army." Gene hadn't meant any offence. But she was hurt. So he started a mother-in-law day four years ago.

Said the son of Ed Howe, "The Sage of Potato Hill," in explanation:

"An angel of a woman does not become a shrew and a busybody of a devil in skirts and a homewrecker simply because she has a daughter or son who marries. . . . The greatest asset a young couple can have is a mother-in-law."

Governor James V. Alfred ruled the idea official for the whole state—and that takes in a lot of mothers-in-law.

In Amarillo alone approximately 1,000 women are duly registered today with letters of recommendation from their children's mates. First, they are going to a free luncheon today. Then to a free show.

Many Amarillo merchants have some free merchandise ready for them. Next year, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is to be invited by Howe to the festivities.

REVIVING FIRESIDE ART

Brest, France (Canadian Press).—In an endeavor to revive the ancient Breton industry of lace-work and hand embroidery, in which forty years ago 30,000 women earned a living, the national office of lace-work and embroidery has been organized.

Religion Grounds Of Nazi Divorce

Associated Press
Altona, Germany, March 5.—Because her spouse was an "incorrigible International Bible Student," a court today granted a Nazi wife's plea for divorce after thirty-three years of married life. She said her husband persisted in associating with the forbidden religious group, although he had been held repeatedly in concentration camps.

Pupils Heard In Programme

An appreciative audience of parents and friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Gladys M. Hick, L.R.S.M., 1409 Hillside Avenue, Wednesday evening, to hear a pianoforte recital by her students. An attractive programme of solos, duets and trios was rendered, good touch and intelligent interpretation being displayed throughout. The performers were: Dorothy Cross, Frances Rowell, George Geddie, Elaine Province, Sasha Angus, Laura Severs, Grace Rowell, Marguerite Pawcett, Viola Wain, Helen Price, Patty Payte, Beverly Price, Irene Tait, Mary McBain, Marjorie Olton, Catherine Angus, Bernard Hick, Elizabeth Angus, Phyllis Hick, Thelma Reynolds, and Peggy Sedgman.

Prizes were awarded by Mrs. Hick for excellent work during 1936 to Peggy Sedgman, Elizabeth Angus, Joan Gill, Thelma Reynolds, Bernard Hick, Beverly Price, Phyllis Hick, Marguerite Pawcett, Catherine Angus, Marjorie Olton, Laura Severs, Sasha Angus, George Geddie, Irene Tait, Muriel Sprague and Mary McBain.

The enjoyment of the evening was enhanced by the violin solos of little Marie Wovles, accompanied at the piano by her teacher, Miss Dorothy Francis, and the vocal solos of Mrs. Gillie accompanied by Mrs. G. H. E. Green.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q.—Should a woman remove her glove to shake hands, or apologize if she does not?

A.—No, neither is necessary.

Q.—What form of closing should a man use when writing to a girl with whom he is slightly acquainted?

A.—"Very truly yours," or "Very sincerely yours."

Q.—What is bearnaise sauce?

A.—A rich sauce thickened with egg yolks, and containing the flavor of shallot and tarragon.

"CUCKOO" HATS POPULAR

New York, March 5 (Associated Press).—More women wear "cuckoo" hats in North America than anywhere else, Miss Lillian Fischer, Hollywood fashion expert, said today.

"In the old days they used to have 'cuckoo' hats in Paris, which no woman over here would wear," she said.

"Now the opposite is true. Paris is more conservative."

She quoted a milliner as saying, "I have made some terrible hats, but some women like terrible hats."

Columbia W.A. Ends Sessions

Diocesan Board
Elects
Roster of Officers

Announcement of the election of officers made at the closing session of the diocesan board of the Columbia W.A. at the Memorial Hall this morning revealed the following roster for the coming year: Hon. president, Mrs. Harold E. Sexton; president, Miss Lydia Sill; third vice-president, Miss Foster; recording secretary, Mrs. O. Prentice; treasurer, Mrs. A. A. Jengough; extra cents secretary, Miss E. Groyne; girls and candidates secretary, Mrs. Frew; church embroidery secretary, Mrs. T. J. Greenway; prayer partners secretary, Mrs. A. Maunsell; Columbia Coast Mission magazine secretary, Mrs. F. E. L. Philip; living message secretary, Miss Dora Mott. Other offices will be filled later.

At the special meeting held last night Miss Isaac, mission worker from the diocese of mid-Japan, gave a vivid picture of her experiences in that country, sketching the social, economic and political background and describing the natural beauty of the country.

After reviewing the mission work, the kindergarten, the mothers' meetings, cooking classes, young men's and high school girls' classes and Bible reading groups which came under the direction of her mission in Toyohashi, Miss Isaac appealed to all who called themselves Christians to combat the forces of Communism by spreading the teachings of Christ. Rev. Alan Gardiner was in the chair, and Lady Lake thanked the speaker and presented her with a bouquet of flowers.

REPORTS GIVEN

The report of the magazine secretary, Mrs. Philip, yesterday showed that three and one-half tons of reading matter has been shipped to the mission during the year from Victoria. Many up-land branches sending their contributions direct to the mission ship at the Elkhorn. The reports of the Little Helpers' secretary, Mrs. Foxwell, and of the Prayer Partners' secretary were given, also the Church Embroidery secretary, Mrs. Greenway, who expressed sincere thanks to Mrs. Quanten for her unfailing and valuable help to the guild all these years. In so hospitably entertaining the guild at the deanery.

Mrs. Belson presided over the president's conference, and brought in the findings and resolutions from that body to the afternoon session, where they received endorsement.

Mrs. C. S. Quanten led the intercessions, and at the close Lady Lake referred feelingly to this being the last meeting at which the board will have the benefit of Mrs. Quanten's presence and prayers. The reports of affiliated societies were brought in, the Mothers' Union by Mrs. Bassett, the Girls' Friendly Society by Mrs. Nation, and Rev. Clarence Lee brought in the Oriental report.

Deaconess Robinson gave an interesting report of the Sunday-school—by post, and also gave a report of the Diocesan Board of Religious Education. The Living Message secretary, Miss Mott, has stationery to be sold for the benefit of a kindergarten school to be built in the District of Nagoya, to be a memorial to two outstanding missionaries, Miss Tient and Miss Young, who labored in that district for thirty and twenty-seven years.

Canon S. G. Wickens, who gave a deeply interesting address on the Indians of this continent, and on his special work at the Elkhorn Indian Residential School, and thanked the W.A. for their support. Canon Nunna conducted the morning devotional service.

Mrs. Gideon Hicks To Give Recital

The Victoria Musical Art Society will welcome one of its former well-known members when it presents Mrs. Gideon Hicks at its March recital in the Empress ballroom next Wednesday evening, Mrs. Hicks returning to Victoria to visit her daughter, Mrs. J. T. Ross, who was well known in the city as a singer, and later as a reader, before she left to reside in Vancouver. She was president of the former Ladies' Musical Club for several years, and was prominent in many musical activities.

On Wednesday, Mrs. Hicks will give as a reading the melodrama, "Knock Arden," Tennyson's familiar poem, as set to the music of Richard Strauss, written in 1886. Miss Beatrice Hicks will be at the piano.

Selma Reyes, brilliant young violinist, will be the other artist on the programme. She has chosen two groups, the "Devil's Trill" Sonata (Tartini-Kreisler), with the "Cadenza" written by Fritz Kreisler, and three pieces by the Bohemian composer, Anton Dvorak, "Romantic Piece," "Indian Lament" (Dvorak-Kreisler) and "Slavonic dance in G minor." Miss Lolita Reyes will accompany her sister.

Among visitors in Victoria for the Gent-Willey wedding that will take place tomorrow evening are Mrs. A. Rea of Powell River, who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Gent, Belmont Avenue, and Mrs. D. Falchen, of Ocean Falls.

Mrs. Marie Newberger, society editor of The Seattle Times, who writes under the pen name Virginia Boren, arrived yesterday afternoon to join her husband, Mr. Joseph Newberger, who has been participating in the midwinter golf tournament. They will spend a few days at the Empress Hotel before returning to their home in the Sound city.

"At Home" For Golfers Is Gay

Dancers Delight Crowd at Informal Gathering

"Post-mortems," that popular indoor sport of the golfing fraternity, were indulged in during the intervals between the more formal entertainment at the delightful "at home" arranged at the Empress Hotel last night for visiting and local golfers and their friends.

COMEDY NUMBER

The ballroom was converted into a drawing-room for the occasion, with comfortable lounges and chairs and masses of flowers, and in this intimate setting Don Julian and Marjorie, the Hollywood dancing team, again demonstrated their skill. An amusing and sophisticated comedy number was "Every Saturday Night," in which their clever miming and dancing was supplemented by dialogue, an original innovation in dance routine. Their other number was an exquisitely lyrical interpretation of Schubert's "Serenade."

These outstanding dancers have proved so popular that the hotel management has arranged for their appearance tonight during the dinner dance to be held from 6.45 till 9 o'clock in the main dining-room, and again at the cabaret supper tomorrow night. Tables for either event should be reserved at once so as to avoid disappointment.

GRACEFUL BALLET

A graceful "Tarentelle" to Rossini's music was danced by Rosemary Farrow in a spangled ballet frock, and Ian Gibson, in blue and silver. Other students of the Russian Ballet School of Dancing, in the traditional white ballet costumes, also presented the charming "Moonlight Ballet" to Chopin's music.

This included "Nocturne" by Doreen Wilson, Phyllis Addison and Wynne Shaw; "Valse Brillante" by Mary Grant, Dorothy Routledge, Rosemary Farrow, Josephine Wilson, Patricia Boyd, Erminie Webber, Lillian Foster, Betty Moore and Betty Enggren; "Valse Lente," Molly McCallum, Rosemary Farrow, Margery Lindgren, Winifred Winsby, Joan Cole-Crow, Winifred Longfield, Mona McDonald, Donna McInnes, Diana Darling and Bernice McKelvie.

The hotel orchestra under W. F. Tickle's direction, also contributed to the programme.

Strawberry Vale

The combined United Church choirs of Sanahil will present a sacred twilight recital in the City Temple, Victoria, on Sunday, March 7, commencing at 3 p.m. The choirs of St. Aidan's, Wilkinson Road and Garden City churches will take part under their respective leaders, F. Jennings, D. W. Phillips and Jack Jones.

Jean and Catherine Torrance, Dorothy Martin, Catherine Thorntons, Jenny Telfer, and Grace Law.

The Uplands Golf Club will hold an auction and contract bridge party at the clubhouse on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Capt. W. E. Tapley is in charge of the arrangements, and members are reminded to bring their own cards and scores.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smedley have returned to their home in Langford after a short stay in Seattle where they accompanied their daughter, Miss Margaret Smedley, R.N., on the first stage of her journey to England via the Panama Canal and the West Indies.

Mrs. C. P. Armstrong, York Place, Oak Bay, who left here last November for the east and who has been visiting in eastern Canada and New York during the time, returned to Victoria yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Armstrong will leave Victoria again on Monday en route to California to join Mrs. M. P. Driscoll, who is visiting in Del Monte.

In honor of Miss Betty Creffield, whose marriage to Mr. Charles Frederick Meads will take place this month, Miss Peggy Silburn entertained with a kitchen shower on Wednesday evening at her home on Douglas Street. The many useful gifts were presented to the honored guest on a stove gaily decorated in St. Patrick's Day colors. The guests included Miss Betty Creffield, Mrs. A. M. Creffield, Mrs. J. Kent-Parkes, Mrs. C. Brown, Mrs. E. Shaw, Mrs. W. Moore, Mrs. G. Silburn Sr., Mrs. J. Silburn Jr., Mrs. H. Grace, Mrs. J. Edgelow and the Misses E. Fulton, A. Hardisty, L. Bethel, Dolly Bradshaw, Owen and Doris Fuggle, M. Wilson and Marjorie Raifs.

Mrs. J. P. Torrance and Miss May Bent were joint hostesses at a surprise miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Catherine Torrance, an Easter bride-elect. The many useful gifts were presented to the bride-to-be in a decorated box of pink and white. Games were enjoyed by one and all, and at the close of the evening dainty refreshments were served. The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Torrance, Mrs. A. Bent, Mrs. E. Bent, Mrs. J. Jackson, Mrs. J. Rankin, Mrs. A. Porter, Mrs. E. Telfer, Mrs. E. Martin, Mrs. R. Eddies, Mrs. Baiden, Mrs. M. To Commemorate City's Birthday

The Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter will celebrate the anniversary of the founding of the city of Victoria on Monday, March 15, with a public luncheon to be held in the large dining-room of the Hudson's Bay Company, it was made known at the meeting of the chapter held yesterday afternoon. A programme is being prepared and the luncheon will commence at 12 noon. Reservations may be made now with the chef at the Hudson's Bay.

Mrs. A. S. Christie, the new regent, presided. Special tribute of sympathy was tendered to the family of the late Mrs. Florence E. Vantricht, who had been a member of the chapter for the past twenty-one years. Mr. R. E. McKicking spoke of the faithfulness and the service Mrs. Vantricht had given for many years. The City Council has consented to allow the chapter to sell Heather, as in former years, on August 26, the anniversary of the departure of the first contingent for the Great War. Money was voted for the next three months to the Sea Cadets, Girl Guides, soldiers' graves, Red Cross workshop and rent for the room.

DOUGLAS STREET B.Y.P.U.

The regular meeting of the B.Y.P.U. of the Douglas Street Baptist Church was in charge of the C.G.I.T. and was presided over by Helen McKinnon. The group had as guest speaker Mr. Hing Hope, a student at Victoria College. Mr. Hope, who is a member of a United Young People's organization, spoke briefly on their theme, "Christian Youth Building a New World," concluding with a glimpse of modern China as seen through the eyes of a Canadian-born Chinese. Helen Honeychurch and Evelyn Humphrey sang a duet. Henry Robinson moved a vote of thanks to both Mr. Hope and the C.G.I.T. for an enjoyable evening. Announcement was made of the Baptist Young People's rally to be held in April at Nanaimo. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. Next Tuesday the joint B.Y.P.U. of the Emmanuel and First Church will have charge of the meeting.

The first corkscrew patent in the U.S. was issued to P. Blake in 1860.

Little Jacqueline June Harrison is the one-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Harrison of Port Renfrew, V.I., and grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hancock of 3120 Qu'Appelle Street. She had her first birthday on February 28.

Mrs. Simpson Orders New Gowns

Paris, March 5 (Associated Press).—Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson has ordered five new creations from the establishment of British Capt. Edward Molyneux, Parisian dressmaker. It was disclosed today.

Her order, placed through the Cannes branch of the Molyneux Salon, includes an evening fur coat, an evening ensemble, a wool coat for afternoon wear, an afternoon dress and a sports outfit.

Ten silver fox skins will be used for the coat, primarily an evening model of fingertip length with long sleeves. Cut on straight lines, the coat may also be worn for formal afternoon functions.

BLUE MIRROR BUTTONS

Her next choice was an evening ensemble of lustrous pastel blue satin, cut straight with a floor length skirt and a square neck.

A matching jacket is designed in a cutaway, tailored style with plain sleeves and revers. Blue mirror glass is used for buttons and for the buckle of the satin jacket belt.

For afternoon, Mrs. Simpson selected a long, black wool coat with a fitted waist and long, flared sleeves. The front edges are trimmed with black braid in scroll design and the trimming is repeated on the borders of the sleeves.

She also picked out black wool for an afternoon dress with a narrow, shaped neck and short sleeves. Trimmed with piping of white crinkled crepe, the dress has a bunch of snowdrops, at the waist, caught under a black wool girdle.

THREE-PIECE SPORTS OUTFIT

Mrs. Simpson's last selection was a three-piece sports outfit in string-colored wool of an open basket weave. It consists of a straight three-quarter length coat with plain sleeves and no collar.

With a plain, straight skirt, she will wear a long-sleeved gilet blouse fastened with flat, iron buttons.

Inset-breast pockets with narrow, straight flaps appear on both sides of the coat and gilet.

Stewart, Conservative, Leeds, Ont.

Dr. Arthur Beauchamp, clerk of the House of Commons and secretary of the Canadian branch, will also be in the party.

This representation will be additional to the official delegation, including Prime Minister King, House Speaker Casgrain, Conservative Leader R. B. Bennett, Senator Raoul Dandurand, government leader in the upper House, and Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, opposition leader in the red chamber.

C.C.F. Concert Much Enjoyed

The Women's Auxiliary of the C.C.F. held a very successful concert on Wednesday, at the hall on Port Street. A large audience was present which enjoyed an interesting programme. The pupils of Sonya Slavina's School of Dancing contributed a group of dances, varying from a military tap dance to the "Champagne Waltz," putting on a splendid performance and drawing much applause.

Other items on the programme were the Corn-huskers, a trio of eccentric musicians, a ladies' mandolin orchestra, a solo on a saw, accompanied by a guitar.

The Progressive Arts Club staged a dramatic anti-war play, "A Voice From the Living," which was very well received. After the concert the hall was cleared for dancing, the trio playing for several old-time dances during the evening. Everyone had a good time, and many expressed a wish for another night's entertainment of the same nature.

Health Insurance Is Relief Plan

Canadian Press
New Westminster, March 5.—Relief recipients of Matsqui municipality, thirty miles east of New Westminster in the Fraser Valley, enjoy the services of their own health insurance scheme.

All relief workers contribute $1 each of their monthly allowances to the scheme. Reeve George Cruickshank told delegates of the Fraser Valley Reeves' Association at a meeting here. Of this money, three-quarters goes to the doctor who serves the contributors, and the other quarter for the purchase of medicine.

Reeve Cruickshank said he hoped to extend the scheme throughout the entire municipality this year.

Music Leader To Visit City

Announcement has been received by the local secretary of the Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music, London, is now in British Columbia and will arrive in Victoria on March 10. Mr. Macklin plans to call at Nelson, Penticton and Kamloops, visit for a few days in Vancouver, Victoria and Nanaimo and return east on March 31.

As Mr. Macklin is on an inspection tour of the Canadian secretarial branches, and incidentally to study local conditions as they affect the Royal Schools, he desires it to be known that he will be pleased to meet and discuss with the teachers any and all matters appertaining to the work of the associated boards.

Informal receptions are being arranged in Vancouver and Victoria, and it is hoped that all those interested will have an opportunity to meet the chief executive personally. In addition to the receptions Mr. Macklin will be "at home" to all teachers during his brief visit in each centre. Mr. Macklin will make his headquarters while in Vancouver at the Vancouver Hotel, and in Victoria at the Empress Hotel.

Further information may be obtained through the resident secretary, 413 Granville Street, Vancouver.

Rockland Park W.C.T.U.—At the March meeting of the Rockland Park W.C.T.U. held recently at the home of the president, Mrs. John Hall, 1919 Belmont Avenue, a standing tribute was paid to the life and work of Mrs. Lottie McAllister, late editor of The White Ribbon Tidings, national organ of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. Deep regret was recorded also at the news just learned of the death at Vancouver of Mrs. Yapp, provincial treasurer for British Columbia of the W.C.T.U. Mrs. William Grant, the guest speaker, explained the resolution which was passed by the Local Council of Women, at their sessions, urging that special instruction be given everyone on taking out an automobile drivers' license against the taking of even the smallest quantity of alcoholic beverage before or during the driving of a motor vehicle. Sincere thanks were given the speaker by a unanimous resolution. Other subjects introduced and discussed were: The blood test for drivers, non-alcoholic fruit drinks, and the cigarette habit. Reference was also made to the centenary of the birth of the great evangelist, D. L. Moody. The chair was taken by the vice-president, Mrs. F. W. Laing, who also conducted the devotional period, and gave a report of the recent meeting of the Local Council of Women. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

When children suffer unhappy experiences or those which are unpleasantly it is quite natural that all the physical surroundings of the experience likewise affect them. Children may fear going to the barber because they have been cautioned of the dangers of scissors and told that a "cut" is painful. They may hate going to bed because their mothers have used their beds for punishment. They may dislike some food because it was offered to them when they were angry or nauseated.

Here is a small boy who, having been taken up twenty floors in an elevator and treated to diphtheria immunization and vaccination, cannot now be induced to enter a building in which there is an elevator. It is probable that he has forgotten everything except the remembrance that the elevator led to something unpleasant. His mother, Mrs. E. P., wonders how she can overcome this fear.

If he could be presented with a tiny elevator or some building toy made into what looked like an elevator he could be shown how it goes up and down, how objects ride up in it and that nothing happens simply because one goes up in an elevator.

When he is lifted up in the parent's arms high, as children are, he could be told, "Now we go up, up, up just like in an elevator."

When he has had enough of these experiences to give him some knowledge of elevators, he might be taken with some small companion into a building of only two or three floors and be allowed to ride up to some office in which a treat awaited him. It is worthwhile to make the effort to overcome this initial fear so that the child will not be handicapped for years by his unnecessary fear.

Our leaflet on "Common Fears of Childhood" may be had by any parent who is dealing with such emotions. It may be had for a self-addressed, three-cent stamped envelope sent to Myrtle Meyer Eldred of Your Baby and Mine Department of this newspaper.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAPHNE BRETT, good-looking, successful young New York advertising executive, decides to rent a beautiful Connecticut estate her father left her when he was killed in a hunting accident. She needs the money after five years of providing for the education of her younger sister, JENNIFER, who has just finished college.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Before she returned to the living-room, Daphne slipped into her bedroom. She had once told Anne that she couldn't live in a one-room apartment because she had to have a bedroom for running away purposes. She had intended to tidy herself up but her real reason now was to give herself a few minutes of adjustment before she returned to this new and unexpected sister.

She looked around at the room that was no longer hers alone. Jennifer's bag had been dropped on her bed, rumpling and soiling the silk cover. Jennifer's pocketbook spilled its contents over Daphne's dressing table. Her opened powder box making a wide and dusty ring.

Daphne picked up a gold eyebrow pencil and experimented on her own brows, which did not need it. Then she swept everything up neatly, removed the bags from the bed and stripped off her soiled frock.

She selected another from her closet that contained mostly tailored shirt-waist frocks, tailored suits, two or three simple evening gowns, sensible little boots and riding hats in various colors.

When she was cool and fresh again she went back to the living-room through the kitchen and called to Tuck, "Give me a hand with the tray."

Tuck placed the big tray with its silver cargo on the coffee table beside Jennifer.

"Tuck!" Jennifer looked up, sniffed. When she did that, her nose wrinkled hungrily as it had when she was a little thing. "How quaint! No cocktails, really?"

She looked, Daphne thought, exactly ten when she opened her eyes wide that way, except that a ten-year-old would never have such cleverly-matched lashes.

"On occasions," she answered, "but this isn't one of them. I think you'll find the tea refreshing, the sandwiches and cake the best Maggie has to offer, which is excellent."

She had meant to say it easily and was piqued to find that a nervous, anxious note flavored her voice. She didn't want Jennifer to think she was "quaint." After all, there were only six years between them.

"Under the circumstances, we'll make the most of it," Jennifer said cheerfully. "Hoe in, Son." She passed a plate of sandwiches to Tuck and did very well by them herself, Daphne noted in grateful silence.

Daphne, studying Jennifer, poured tea and tried to assert her emotions. She didn't know whether she was pleased with Jennifer's polite or annoyed with her lack of consideration. She didn't know whether she was glad that Jennifer was growing up or sorry that she was no longer a child, but she did know that she recognized beauty—greater than she had expected—rippling in Jennifer.

Jennifer had chic. Daphne, who had pictured her in a school uniform, was not prepared for Jennifer's chic. Instinctively she eyed Jennifer, recognizing the lines that accentuated her delicate curves, her slim waist, her long line from hip to toe; recognizing, moreover, Jennifer's ability for making the most of these.

Daphne looked down at her own simple tailored frock and was a trifle surprised to find that her own figure compared favorably with Jennifer's. The knowledge did not lighten the feeling, however, that she was older, suddenly. And very dull.

"What do you think of our 'dear Daphne getting herself promoted to an executive job'?" Tuck asked Jennifer.

Daphne liked him rather more than usual for the way he put it. Sometimes—very few times—Daphne permitted herself the slightest of romantic conjectures about Tuck. She knew him for exactly what he was. But she was a girl and he was an attractive man who had long protested his devotion to her. Tuck, who had been a crew man at college, who had never done a day's work in all his twenty-six years, who followed the races and sporting events, who was so utterly unlike herself, was too attractive for any girl to pass up romantically without a bit of a struggle.

She looked at his rangy figure sprawled with easy grace in her big chair and listened to his pleasant drawl. She was aware that Jennifer also was appreciating Tuck's attractions. She didn't want Jennifer to appreciate them too thoroughly.

"Get a promotion, Daphne? Lots more money?" Jennifer asked.

"Yes, I'll tell you about it later. What's this party tonight? Will I approve?"

Jennifer hugged her sister's knees and her lovely face melted into wheedling lines. Daphne knew all too well, "Daphne!" Daphne hated being called that—it's a very nice party that Pete Pompton's sister is giving for him at her apartment at the Con-sular. She's having a gang in for supper around 11 o'clock and asked me to bring someone. I can't go alone, so your Tuck is taking me. Okay?"

Daphne said she supposed it was.

Daphne said she supposed it was.

She might have said that since Tuck wouldn't be too old for the crowd, Jennifer might also have invited her. Instead she said:

"I want Tuck to bring you home early."

"Can't you trust him?" Jennifer asked, giving him a sidelong glance.

When Daphne didn't answer because she thought Jennifer's remark in poor taste, Jennifer said penitently, "Good heavens! Am I treading on anybody's toes? Is he your best beau?"

Daphne would like to have slapped her. Instead, she laughed.

"Unfortunately I haven't attained that status yet," Tuck said quickly. "Your sister has a legion of beaux eager to be best."

"A legion of beaux? What fun. Then I can have him!" Jennifer looked at Daphne and indicated Tuck.

Daphne, picking up her tea-tray, didn't answer.

"Run along, Tuck," she said in a little while. "Jennifer has to do her own unpacking. Maggie is leaving and I'm tired."

"Come back about 10 o'clock, Tuck," said Jennifer.

When Tuck had gone, Jennifer said, "What are you going to do tonight, Daph? I hate for you to be here alone while I'm having fun."

"Don't worry about me," Daphne said dryly, addressing the shower curtain. "We'll talk this all out later. In the meantime, put this in your pretty head: I want you to have a good time and I'm going to have one myself. However, while I'm not going to act like a school chaperone, I make the rules. Okay?"

"Sweet!" came back from the depths of the shower.

The room was a wreck when Jennifer finished dressing, but Jennifer was a dream in blue satin with a blue flower tucked in the shoulder-length corn silk of her hair.

"You don't mind picking this up, do you?" she said to Daphne, waving a graceful arm over the wreckage of lingerie, makeup and discarded clothes.

"I don't mind this one time, Jennifer," Daphne said, sitting down on the bed. "But hereafter you'll have to do your share. I have a job to take care of and Maggie is not a personal maid."

Jennifer put down her powder puff and threw her arms around her sister. "Oh, darling, you've been so wonderful to me. I'm not going to be any trouble at all. I'm going to look for a job tomorrow."

Daphne opened her mouth wide and closed it again. Then, "Oh, Jennifer, I want you to specialize in some course. You couldn't live on whatever you'd get. Maybe only $15 a week."

"I would buy my clothes anyway and some day I'll have a lot more. I have it all planned, pet! Jerry's dad is going to get me a job in Wall Street where I'll meet lots of millionaires. I'm going to marry one."

Daphne was not impressed. "I'll have a house on Fifth Avenue as a villa at Palm Beach and you can come and live with me," Jennifer said, and rubbed a bit of cream on her eye-lids.

"To quote you, 'what fun'!" Daphne said in a voice as light as Jennifer's. "But I wouldn't count on a rich marriage for a while at least."

"Why not?" Jennifer asked impatiently, her young voice hard. "I've got what they like and they've got what I like. It's a fair exchange isn't it? A career may do for a girl like you, but I think marriage is the only sensible thing."

Daphne saw Jennifer to the door with Tuck then, with mingled emotions, she marched to her bedroom, picked up Jennifer's scarlet lipstick and painted her own mouth. It was brighter than usual. Then she stared, but hard as she stared at her mirrored self she couldn't see why Jennifer thought her an old maid. "For girls like you?" Indeed!

New Frigidaire Is Introduced

Island Dealers Attend Special Show to See Refrigerator Models

To signalize the formal presentation of the 1937 Frigidaire and to hear the outline of the sales programme for the coming season, Frigidaire dealers gathered at the Empress Hotel this week. The convention was opened by B. P. Schwengers, local manager for McLennan, McPeely & Prior Ltd., the speakers being J. E. McCormack, manager of the appliance department, McLennan, McPeely & Prior, Vancouver, and Mr. Garlick representative of the Frigidaire Corporation, from Toronto.

Among those present were: J. A. Knight of LadySmith, Colin Mount of Ganges, J. R. McAdam, representing the Cowichan Merchants, Duncan, and the majority of the staff from McLennan, McPeely & Prior Ltd. in Victoria.

After the introduction of the speakers were drawn to reveal the complete line of Frigidaire, artistically arranged on the platform, flanked by pretty girls in pages' costumes to point out the salient features. The talks were illustrated by the showing of movies dealing with the advanced improvements found in Frigidaire.

This year Frigidaire has surpassed its own record in making an automatic refrigerator a real home utility, rather than a luxury. Five points are stressed, and to describe them the following phrases have been coined: "Greater protectability," "greater iceability," "greater storage ability," "greater dependability," and "greater serviceability." These do not refer to specific features of Frigidaire, but have been chosen to designate basic services which no single feature can provide.

The small but powerful refrigerating mechanism found in Frigidaire has been built on a principle which permits economy of operation and this has led to its name, "The Meter-miser."

Frigidaire has solved the problem of releasing ice cubes and trays when ice is needed.

Frigidaire scores in perfection of design. Careful planning, with the practical needs of the housewife ever in mind, has produced a cabinet which offers the greatest possible storage space with not one inch wasted.

Mrs. N. E. Suddaby, Re-elected Regent

Duncan, March 5.—The postponed annual general meeting of the Cowichan Chapter I.O.O.F. was held at the home of Mrs. G. W. Bissett, Wednesday.

Reports were received from the secretary-treasurer, the educational secretary, echoes, standard bearer, ex-service (memorial) immigration, em-pire study, distinguished visitors and child welfare committees.

The election of officers for 1937 resulted as follows: Honorary regent, Mrs. F. G. Christmas; regent, Mrs. N. E. Suddaby (re-elected); first vice-regent, Mrs. H. P. Swan; second vice-regent, Mrs. P. H. Price; secretary, Mrs. W. R. Russell (re-elected); treasurer, Mrs. W. R. Bowman (re-elected); echoes secretary, Mrs. J. Walcott (re-elected); education secretary, Mrs. P. Deykin; standard bearer, Mrs. A. S. Irvine; councillors, Mesdames J. B. Green, H. G. Garrard, P. W. Galloway, G. W. Bissett and E. M. Dawson-Thomas.

The meeting decided to hold a "rummage" sale on March 12 and 13, arrangements being left in the hands of the executive, and spring tea early in April.

The Scripture portion was read by Walter Eckman. There were two musical items which were much enjoyed. Lloyd Vale played a guitar solo and Irene Barnes, Mary Stewart and Jim Inrig sang as a trio, "Tell It Again."

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. Group One will be responsible for the next meeting, which will be held on March 17.

Completes Course In Orthopedics

Yesterday marked the return from the Health Spot Orthopedic School in San Francisco, Calif., of D. R. McIntosh of the Foot Health Shop, who has completed a course in advanced methods of scientific fitting and foot comfort. The course included the anatomy of the foot and its functioning under normal and abnormal conditions. The subject of shoe fitting and the proper use of the new principles of last construction, which has taken place in the last six months, were thoroughly covered during the four days of study. Mr. McIntosh is very enthusiastic over the school and its methods, and feels confident that much progress will be made in bringing comfort to foot sufferers in 1937 as a result of the scientific developments in the care of feet. Mr. McIntosh said he derived a great deal of benefit from this school.

Declarer Attempts Bold Play in Effort to Pick Up Opponent's High Cards and Makes His Contract

By WM. E. MCKENNEY
Walter Malowan, of New York, has long been a prominent figure in tournament bridge. For the last year, however, he has not taken any part in national tournament play, but he still plays his cards with the skill that brought him championship. He plays mostly at the Regency Club, New York's latest and most exclusive place of its kind. In today's hand, which was played at that club, the course of the bidding was very unusual, but it illustrates very clearly the changed conceptions of bidding from a few years ago.

SOLUTION TO PREVIOUS CONTRACT PROBLEM
Malowan, sitting South, must have gasped when he saw the dummy and realized that his partner had found two free responses on his apparently worthless hand, which contained only one king and thus only one apparent entry.
The hand appeared to be much overbid, but it still is the mark of a good player to make the best of even poor material. This the declarer proceeded to do.

He won the opening lead of the queen of hearts with the ace and then laid down the ace and the king of diamonds, hoping that the queen would drop. When it did, he knew he had one chance of making his contract. That was to find the king of clubs not more than twice guarded in the East hand.
As he now had a second entry to dummy, he was able to finesse twice against the king of clubs. Thus he lost only one heart trick, by reserving his entry for taking an essential finesse.

CHANGES AD WAR VETERANS

Many Benefit Under Amendments to Acts

Recent amendments to the Pension and the War Veterans' Allowance Acts have already benefited many ex-soldiers. J. R. Bowler, general secretary of the Dominion Executive Council of the Canadian Legion, says in a report reviewing the work of the

Today's Contract Problem

North is playing the contract at six clubs, doubled. After winning the first trick, he loses the trump finesse to East's king. East returns another spade. To make his contract, declarer must shut out all of East's high cards. How does he do this?

1936 special committee of Parliament set up to deal with soldier affairs. Five hundred and fifteen cases, which otherwise would have been excluded, benefited from that change in the War Veterans' Allowance Act giving power to the board to award allowances in the case of applicants who have attained the age of fifty-five years, although not considered permanently unemployable by reason of physical or mental disability. Another clause in the amended act that has been welcomed provides that in the case of hospitalization at the expense of the department, partial allowances may be paid to dependents. This amendment has been of great assistance as in the case of practically all married veterans the board has ordered that part of the allowance be continued to the wife. Few have benefited from the clause in the amended act providing that partial allowances for dependents may be paid for not more than twelve months when the applicant is a prisoner undergoing punishment. The reason for this is that the majority of those responsible for infractions of the law are single ex-service men. Two hundred and twenty-three cases have been beneficially adjusted as a result of amendments to the Pension Act, calling for the pension to remain on a "married" basis, following the death of the wife or pensioner, when there are minor children. Thirty-nine cases benefited under an amendment that recognizes marriages performed after May, 1933, where the pensioner had prior to that date supported a woman he subsequently married. Section four of the Allowance Act was also amended by reducing the eligibility period of domicile in Canada from twelve to six months. This has enabled the board to deal with a number of deserving cases who, upon their return from the United States and Great Britain, have not been compelled to wait one year before becoming eligible.

Minor Salary Changes Made

Minor salary increases, totaling $360 a year, affecting six of the lower-paid employees, were approved by the Sanich Council yesterday evening. The action followed a request from the entire municipal staff asking reconsideration of the wage situation with a view to partial restoration of cuts.

Other business of the meeting included the formal setting of the 1937 tax levy at 42 mills on land and on 20 per cent of improvements. The general levy this year is reduced from 28.5 to 25.6 mills, while the school rate was raised from 15.2 to 16.4 mills.

Duncan to Vote On High School

Duncan, March 5.—At the meeting of the Duncan Consolidated School Board Wednesday letters were received from the city of Duncan and the municipality of North Cowichan stating that the "extraordinary estimate" had been disapproved of, and the two councils will be asked to submit a by-law to the ratepayers, to cover the extraordinary estimate. A public meeting in this connection will be held on March 18, to place full details of a proposed addition to the high school before the public. Trustees Chapman and Maitland were appointed a committee to make arrangements.

JORDAN RIVER
At the fortnightly military 500 party on Wednesday prizes were won by the following: Ladies, first, Mrs. L. Haddock and Mrs. H. G. Rough; men, first, G. Bell and A. Boris; traveling prizes, ladies, Mrs. L. Sylvester and Mrs. A. Kirby; men, Mr. L. Sylvester and Mr. G. Nicholson. Ten bid prize, Mrs. C. Martinson and Mr. G. Johnson.

Cowichan Guide Committee Named

Duncan, March 5.—The twenty-first annual general meeting of the Cowichan Girl Guides committee was held in the Guide Hall Wednesday. Mrs. F. G. Aldersey gave a resume of the year's work.

Miss N. C. Denney gave a talk on the duties of the local guide committee, and she stressed the fact that they were a model association, with a splendid reputation for their work all over B.C.

In reporting on the "lone" Guide Company, Miss Lamb said they now have two patrols at Ocean Falls, one at Red, one at Cortez and one at Galiano Islands.

Torchy and Doug Peden Move Into Tie For First Position

THE SPORTS MIRROR

By PETE BALLAWAY

BILLY BUXTON breezed into the office today. The young Victoria featherweight had just returned from Seattle after scoring a brilliant three-round knockout over Able Israel to lift the Washington State championship. Billy injured his left hand in the fight when he hit Israel on the forehead and will remain home with his folks until the swelling goes down. The writer asked him if Israel had hurt him during the bout, and Buxton replied: "Only once, when he caught me with a right cross in the second round, but I went right back in after him again."

Buxton is not sure about his next fight, but has hopes of getting a match with Speedy Dado, well-known Filipino battler, who is making a comeback after dropping from sight for a couple of years. Dado is coming north to Seattle and promoter Nate Draxman promised the winner of the Buxton-Israel bout a shot at the Filipino. If Buxton gets the Dado engagement he will be going up against a seasoned campaigner. Dado's record up to the end of 1934 was as follows: Contests 91, knockouts 27, won 35, lost 14, drawn 9, knockout by 6. Dado has fought world champions, and a couple of years ago was rated up with the best in the game.

Buxton got a lot of nice publicity from Seattle papers on his victory. A few paragraphs from the story carried in The Seattle Times make interesting reading:

"A corker left to the point of the chin-down went Able Israel in the resin, counted out. . . .

"There passed one of the most colorful figures in Seattle boxing, but in a far corner, listening to the cheers of the crowd, was a new flat hero, Billy Buxton.

"Billy, a southpaw featherweight puncher from Victoria, knocked at the door of fame with his string of eight straight victories, seven of them knockouts, since the broken bone in his left hand healed.

"Last night he quit rapping . . . he tore the door down as he knocked Israel cold in the third round of the main event at the Crystal Pool. A large crowd hoped for a finish like that . . . the fans like Buxton while Israel is slightly in disfavor . . . but it hardly expected such a workmanlike job.

"Just like a southpaw does so often, Buxton surprised Israel in the second round by dropping the Jewish midwest with a right hook. Up in a few seconds, Israel was met by a stiff left in the chin that dumped him again just as the bell rang.

"Israel came back strong in the third, only to run into another terrific left and the count was out a minute and twenty seconds after the round started.

"There's no question about it, Buxton can punch! He throws a terrific left with a twisting motion that gives it additional power, behind a bomb-like movement that drives everything before it."

High School In Soccer Victory

The Victoria High School soccer eleven beat the Mount View High School 2 to 0 in a keen exhibition game at the Victoria High School grounds yesterday afternoon. Ralph Cosier and Chuck Rowe scored the goals for Victoria in the first half. Five High School soccer teams have entered in the Colonist Cup series. The draw has been announced as follows:

Mount View vs. Mount Douglas, Equilmalt vs. Victoria A. The winner between Equilmalt and Victoria A will meet Victoria B.

SMALL MONTANA WINNER

London, March 5.—Small Montana, Philippine flyweight, outpointed Ray Palmer, England, in a ten-round bout at Albert Hall last night.

CHAMPION KNOCKED OUT

Victoria Riders Deadlocked With Two Other Teams

Battle in New York Bike Race Becomes Keen With Finish Tomorrow Night

Ten Pairs Are Still Competing

Associated Press
New York, March 5.—Torchy and Doug Peden, Victoria brothers, held their position in a three-way tie for leadership of the six-day bike grind at the 110th hour today. Ignat and Diot, France, and Thomas and Rebol, the Americans, were the other leading combinations, but the Frenchmen held a point margin.

The Peden brothers got in some smart riding last night to improve their position. The Canadians were now in a good position with the finish of the race scheduled for tomorrow evening.

Metz Leading Florida Golf

Hollywood, Fla., March 5.—Dick Metz, Chicago, sailed around a windy golf course yesterday in 63 strokes to forge to the front of the Hollywood open field.

His card was seven strokes under par. With an initial 69, it gave young Metz 143 for the halfway mark. Ky Laffoon, Chicago, turned in a 64. That gave him a thirty-six-hole total of 136 and a tie for second place with Johnny Farrell and Jimmy Hines, New York.

Ladysmith Hoop Squads to Battle Locals; Bremerton Teams Here Tomorrow

With three games scheduled tonight and four tomorrow evening, basketball fans will have lots of entertainment this week-end. All fixtures are at the High School gym. Ladysmith hoop squads will be in town this evening to battle local aggregations for first round laurels in the lower island playoffs. Ladysmith, Engle and Hoyle-Brown, senior B men's quintettes, will take the floor in the final game on this evening's show. The intermediate slot will see Ladysmith Intermediate B boys and Canadian Scottish do battle. The show will open at 7:30 o'clock with a tussle between St. Aidan's and Ladysmith, who will be meeting for the junior title of the Sunday School Basketball League. The Mets won the first game by a tidy margin and will take the floor tonight with a nice advantage.

BREMERTON SQUADS

A trio of crack hoop squads from Bremerton will be in town tomorrow night to meet local clubs in exhibition games. The programme is: Bremerton First National Bank vs. Liberty Cafe, 7 o'clock. Charleston Athletic Club girls vs. Gainers Superiors, 8 o'clock. Bremerton Active Club vs. West Saanich Mercantiles, 9 o'clock. In a fourth game tomorrow night, starting at 10 o'clock the Sons of Canada will meet Chemainus in the second game of the lower island intermediate A boys' playoff.

Navy to Tackle Bays Tomorrow

Originally scheduled to take on the Canadian Scottish fifteen in the resumption of play in the city senior oval ball hoop the James Bay Athletic Club ruggers will tackle the Navy men at Macdonald Park tomorrow afternoon instead. Oak Bay Wanderers will meet the Fifth Brigade in an intermediate fixture. Both matches will begin at 2:45 o'clock. Canadian Scottish senior and intermediate fifteens will not perform owing to the death yesterday of Major H. M. McGilveray, second in command of the First Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment.

ERNIE TODD TO HEAD GUN CLUB

Popular Local Sportsman Selected as President at Annual Meeting

E. D. Todd, active in local outdoor sporting affairs, is the new president of the Victoria Gun Club. He was elected at the annual meeting held Wednesday night in The Colonist board room.

H. Hazenfratz was chosen vice-president and Elbeck B. Wilson, secretary-treasurer. Other officers are: J. A. Wenger, field captain; E. B. Wilson, J. A. Wenger, J. A. Rithet and A. E. Hazenfratz, membership committee; F. Cross, A. Ross, W. G. Russell, H. Hazenfratz, A. E. Hazenfratz, E. B. Wilson and J. A. Wenger, building committee.

Plans for the erection of a skeet and trap-shooting club were made at the session. The intention of the club is to install two complete regulation traps and a skeet layout on the new grounds at Matchosin. The grounds are ten miles from the city and right alongside a main highway, offering a clear skyline. It is also the intention of members to construct an up-to-date clubhouse.

With plans for the clubhouse and layout completed, it was the decision of the meeting that the actual construction of equipment be launched within the next few weeks. Those sportsmen wishing to join the club can get full information from Elbeck Wilson, by phoning G 6411, or Johnny Wenger by phoning E 5521.

Touring English Cricketers Get 344 Runs Against Victoria Eleven

Canberra, Australia, March 5.—Lusty batting was displayed by the touring Marylebone Cricket Club players today when they started a two-day encounter with a Victoria country team. The Englishmen, who yesterday defeated the test series with Australia, rolled up a first innings score of 344 and the Victoria team 29 for two wickets. L. B. Pihlcock young Surrey player who has recovered from a hand injury suffered early in the year, hit up 104 runs and Wally Hammond and William Voce made 53 each, the latter being not out.

Voce and G. O. Allen, English skipper added 80 for the last wicket at the rate of two runs a minute. Each player hit a six.

Tilden Greatest—Vines

Denver, March 5.—Bill Tilden, at the top of his game, would have beaten Fred Perry, says Elsworth Vines, angular Californian, who has played against both.

"I don't think Perry is as good as Tilden at his peak," Vines said here today. He added, however, Perry "is better than the Tilden of 1934, when I first started to play him."

Gains Semi-finals in Canadian Badminton Singles Along With Three Toronto Stars; Coast Women Players Turn in Smart Exhibition

Canadian Press
Vancouver, March 5.—Toronto's "big three" of Canadian badminton—Jack Storey, Jimmy Forsythe and Joe Zaharko—focused their eyes on the undefeated men's singles throne in the Canadian badminton championship tournament today while three British Columbians prepared to continue the bombing that devastated eastern ranks in women's singles yesterday.

Only Vancouver's Dick Birch, ranked No. 2 in Canada, remains in the men's event to meet the triple Toronto threat when play resumes this evening.

The draw found him matched against Forsythe. Storey meets Zaharko in the other semi-final.

Blond-haired Miss Daphne Fernie from Kamloops, B.C., who toppled Ottawa's Ruth Robertson, former Canadian singles titleholder, yesterday, faces the east's lone remaining threat, smooth-stroking Mrs. W. R. Walton, Toronto, defending champion. The other match finds Mrs. Anna Kier Patrick, Vancouver, who yesterday defeated Winnipeg's Mrs. Gordon Pitt, and Kelowna's Margaret Taylor, who beat Isobel Bryson, Ottawa, facing each other across the net.

REX CAREY VICTORIOUS

Pounds Out Decision Over Nels Stephens in Feature of Esquimalt Card

About 200 followers of the glove-throwing art last night saw Rex Carey, ruler of the British Columbia middle-weight division, punch his way to a decision over Nels Stephens, young Work Point boxer, in the main event of the amateur boxing show staged at the Esquimalt Athletic Club Hall.

Carey had the better of the argument and was the unanimous choice of the judges and referee. Both lads collided head-on in the second round, opening a wound in the Work Point lad's left eye, and causing the blood to flow throughout the rest of the match. They met at 160 pounds.

Wild blugging featured the semi-main mix that brought together Fred Pocock, Army better and Eddie DeCosta, Esquimalt light-heavyweight. The result was a decision win for Pocock. Aggressiveness gave the Esquimalt lad the first round, but he lost the other two. DeCosta, tired and groggy went down for a nine count in the second round. They fought at 175 pounds.

Bob Clements, Esquimalt, won the verdict over young Allan Duval after three fast rounds in the 125-pound class, while Sonny Ford, Army boxer, won the nod over Jimmy Wood, also a soldier glove-thrower. Ford weighed 147 pounds, Wood 146.

A second-round technical tayo was awarded Roy Duvan, Saanich youth, when he threw too many gloves for Phil Moser, Victoria. They met at 125 pounds. George Robinson, 138 pounds, Victoria, and Neil Duval, 140 pounds, Saanich, fought three wild rounds to a draw. Another draw was the outcome of the battle between Jim and Dick Buxton. Jim weighed ninety pounds and Dick seventy-five.

Louis Callan refereed all bouts. Bob Vipond and "Scotty" McKay were the judges.

Great Interest as Clubs Prepare For Sixth Round Tomorrow; Arsenal, Defending Champions, Face Tough Assignment Against West Bromwich

Canadian Press
London, March 5.—Londoners are hoping the capital will have three representatives — Arsenal, Tottenham Hotspurs and Millwall—in the semi-finals for the English Football Cup after tomorrow's games, but the wagering on the teams hardly supports their optimism.

As eight clubs prepare for the sixth round, Arsenal is established favorite to lift the trophy at odds of 11 to 4. Manchester City is quoted at 4 to 1, Wolverhampton Wanderers 9 to 2, Sunderland 7 to 1, Preston North End and West Bromwich Albion 9 to 1, Tottenham Hotspurs 10 to 1 and Millwall 20 to 1.

The Gunners, cup winners last year, are training at Brighton for their match at West Bromwich. Ted Drake, their sharpshooting centre forward, is not likely to play through a knee injury, but the crack London squad is expected to win. It will be a tough battle, as the Albion is a great cup-fighting team and has reached the semi-finals in the competition on twelve occasions.

Wolverhampton Wanderers are at home to Sunderland and a record crowd is expected.

The Wanderers' ground record has been broken twice this season. At dawn yesterday morning scores were in line for tickets and the box office opened the queues were so long police were called on to keep order.

GOING WELL
After a weak start in league play the Wolves have turned in some fine performances lately and may prove too strong for the Roker Park team. White Hart Lane, home of the Spurs, is sold out for the cup tie with Preston North End. The Londoners will field the team that has proved so successful in previous rounds. Lancashire's representatives have spent this week training at Hastings and are confident of winning.

Millwall, dubbed "Giant Killer" after victories over Chelsea and Derby County, major league, is happy. The Londoners will play in red against Manchester City, another top-notch, owing to the similarity in the colors of the two clubs. The City players will don white shirts and the third division squad's optimism is caused by the fact that all its cup victims this season have won white.

The match will be a battle between three division energy and major league skill. Millwall and Sunderland are the only clubs left in the competition who have not yet won the cup.

Manchester protested to the Football Association Millwall is charging only twenty-four cents for general admission and £1.80 for the best seats, but the objection was overruled.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE
Glasgow, March 5.—The end of the Scottish Football League is in sight and the annual problems of relegation and leadership are causing not a few entries some worry. This week's line-up does not seem particularly bright for the low-placed teams.

Queen of South, just clear of the relegation zone, is out to make it two straight over Glasgow Rangers, leaders of the circuit by two points. The Dumbfries squad crossed would-be critics in the cup competition when they scored a spectacular win over the cup-holders in the first round. In their first league meeting at Dumbfries October 24, the Rangers were held to a 1 to 1 draw.

Perth, on the seventeenth rung of the championship ladder, Hibernians entertain the dangerous Celtic team tomorrow, while the bottom-placed Dundfermline eleven go to Dundee, placed well up in the standing. Pre-game dope gives the Celts and Dundee the edge.

OUT FOR VICTORY
Perhaps the best-played game on the card will be staged at St. Johnstone with Aberdeen providing the opposition. The Aberdonians, two points behind Rangers and still in the hunt for the coveted cup, will unleash their bag of tricks in a determined effort to at least hold the runner-up spot.

The only team in the loop to take full points from Glasgow Rangers in league play this year, Harts have an away game against Kilmarnock. They trail Aberdeen by one point and hold the same margin over Celtic. The Edinburgh team is favored to win.

Two Glasgow games bring together Clyde and Airdon Rovers and Partick Thistle and Third Lanark. In remaining encounters, Falkirk should be regarded as possible candidates. (Turn to Page 17, Col. 2)

HIGH SCHOOL PLAYS COLLEGE

Annual Rugby Match For Kiwanis Cup Scheduled Wednesday Afternoon

Coach George Brand of the Victoria High School announced yesterday that there will be no Howard Russell Cup rugby series this year between Oak Bay High School and Victoria High School. Conditions of the series require that the games be played in January and as the grounds were not fit for play the series had to be canceled. The cup will remain in the hands of the Victoria High School.

Coach Douglas Wallis of Victoria High School announced yesterday that the Kiwanis Cup rugby game between Victoria High School and Victoria College will be played on Wednesday. High School holds the trophy. The game will be played on the Victoria High School grounds. The Victoria High School team will be picked from the following: D. Bray, J. Russell, C. Langan, R. Williams, R. Edmonds, B. Martin, N. Colvin, C. Lucas, A. Sturrock, R. Cosier, B. Noel, F. Smith, B. Brown, G. Andrews, F. Garner, W. Friker, J. Mylrea and J. McGary.

CUE TOURNEY DATE IS SET

Play in City Billiards Championship Will Get Started March 15

Play in the annual city amateur English billiards championship will get under way at the Metropolis Parlors, Yates Street, on March 15. Entries will close on March 13, when the draw will be made. This was the decision made at a meeting of the Victoria and District Amateur English Billiards Association last night.

The city championship snooker tournament will be held at the same time with the entries also closing on March 13.

C. Scott, last year's winner of the billiards title, has left the city, which will mean the crowning of a new champion. Matches will be 400 points, with the semi-finals 500 points and the final 800 points in two blocks.

The snooker matches will be the best two out of three games. R. Dunnett, last year's winner, will defend his crown.

A. J. Patton was re-elected as president, with Sam Oakes, vice-president, and Joe Beasley, secretary. The executive fellows: Percy Fitzsimmons, W. Crowther, J. Todd, E. Newman, H. Bowley Turner and R. Dunnett.

RECREATION TEAM WINS

In a girls' league hoop fixture yesterday afternoon in the Victoria High School gymnasium the Provincial Recreation Centre team defeated the Victoria College, 25 to 26. College held the lead at half time 14 to 10.

$50,000 Race Tomorrow

Miami, Fla., March 5.—This sun-baked winter sports centre is seething with excitement and speculation as to what will happen tomorrow afternoon in the $50,000 added, mile and a quarter Widener Challenge Cup at Hialeah Park.

With the boost is added money from last year's $10,000, the second running of the closing day classic promises to threaten turnstile, betting and racing records. The major share of pre-race attention is going to Finance, five-year-

Dynamiters In First Defeat

London, March 5.—Kimberley dynamiters, Allan Cup holders, suffered their first defeat on their European tour last night, Haringey Racers beating them 1 to 2. Racers have one of the strongest teams in the National Hockey League. Racers were always in command of the game, leading 4 to 1 at the end of the first period and 6 to 2 when the second was through.

Chicago Hawks Continue Great Comeback In Major Hockey

Turn In Smart Performance To Whip Canadiens

Tail-end Club Looks Like Champions in Defeating Leaders 5 to 3

Detroit Winner Over Rangers

It's too bad the National Hockey League is not playing a 100-game schedule this season. Chicago Black Hawks might end up the season as champs then.

Kicked around all season by the other teams, Hawks are just beginning to hit their best pace now and it is far too late for it to do them any good. They can win all their remaining six games and still be out in the cold if New York Rangers ring up one more victory.

Last night Hawks ran their winning streak to three games by defeating Canadiens 5 to 3 in Montreal and looked like champions doing it. Rangers might have administered the coup de grace to Hawks last night but the world champion Detroit Red Wings got in their way. Jack Adams' champs turned back the New Yorkers 2 to 1, halting Rangers' effort to get into the American division second spot over the idle Boston Bruins.

Norm Smith, Detroit goalie, stood out in the win over Rangers and left little doubt that he will win the George Vezina Trophy with the best goals-against record in the league. Opposing him last night was Rangers' Dave Kerr who has the second best record.

FINE RECORD

Counting New York's lone goal last night, only eighty-two have gone by the twenty-eight-year-old Toronto Lad in Wings' nets. This is eight goals better than Kerr and with only six games left for both teams to play it is likely the Wing net-minder will hold the advantage.

Smith was particularly good when Rangers staged power plays in the third period last night in an attempt to even up the score. Cecil Dillon had sent them away to a good start early in the game but Bucko McDonald evened it up in the first and Pete Kelly got the winning goal early in the third.

The win left Wings needing only one more point to make sure of first place in the American section and a playoff with Canadiens for the N.H.L. title. If they tie with New York Americans Sunday or Boston falls to beat Rangers that night Wings are in for certain.

Johnny Gottselig starred for Hawks and sent them away to their win with two first-period goals. Wildor Laroche and Paul Thompson scored in the second, Canadiens offsetting their markers with two by George Mantha and Paul Haynes. Pep Kelly and Mantha added the other goals in the third.

Alan Taylor and J. H. Wilson Win in Open Championship of Winter Golf

Second round of match play in the men's open championship of the ninth annual Empress Hotel midwinter tournament, at the Victoria Golf Club yesterday, was featured by keenly-fought matches.

At the conclusion of the fring, Victoria had two representatives in the semi-finals: Alan Taylor and J. H. Wilson. The other half of the bracket was occupied by Lee Stell and Ernie Ketcham, low handicap Seattle contenders.

Taylor had an easy time in his match, turning back Clyde Banfield, 7 and 6. Harold Wilson had to fight all the way to eliminate Teddy Slingsby, 2 and 1. Stell was extended to the limit to put out Dave Randall, 1 up, while Ketcham won from Freddy Painter by a like score after a great match.

WOMEN'S PLAY
The quarter-finals of the women's championship saw Mrs. A. Dowell, Mrs. A. Watson, Mrs. H. N. Lay and Miss Nora Wilson advance. Mrs. Lay pulled an upset when she defeated Mrs. S. Enke, the former Peggy Allen, 3 and 1. Mrs. Alex. Watson and Mrs. Hew Peterson put on a keen game with the former winning, 2 and 1. The other two matches were one-sided affairs.

Additional results to those published yesterday follow:
Men's Fourth Flight
A. Buckle defeated G. O. Thompson, 1 up.
H. H. Allen won from Harold Hubbard, by default.
W. Munro defeated A. Dennison, 4 and 3.

MOORE HEADS ANGLERS' CLUB

Chosen as President of Saanich Anglers' Association; Expect Big Year

Frank Moore, well known in local outdoor sporting circles, was yesterday evening elected president of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association, by unanimous vote, at a well-attended annual meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce. He succeeds Dr. Hugh Clarke.

Hon. Eric W. Hamber was elected as honorary president, while B. A. McKelvie was chosen as honorary vice-president. Tommy W. McPherson was the unanimous choice as first vice-president; George Robinson, second vice-president, and Bev. Gilson was returned for another term as secretary-treasurer.

Bill Halliday, F. E. W. Smith and C. C. Cooper were elected as directors.

SELECT ANCHORAGE

The Anchorage will again be the official headquarters for club competitions. The question of headquarters has been the topic of much heated argument among members during the last year. At the last general meeting after a very close vote the Anchorage was the choice. It caused much controversy, however, and at last night's meeting in order to clear the air, it was decided to vote on the matter again.

The question of raising the men's membership fee to double the original cost was brought up. It was the cause of a lengthy debate, with the "no's" victory by a sizeable majority. Hugh Creed, however, put forward a motion for consideration at the next meeting, suggesting that the fee for non-residents fishing for club honors be raised to $5.

A revision of the clause in the rules regarding buttons was passed. The change calls for a bronze button to be presented for a fish caught twenty pounds or over, but under thirty; a silver button for a fish caught thirty pounds or over, but under forty; and a gold button for a fish caught over forty pounds. The amendment was made to eliminate the claims for buttons of a lower category when a member catches a fish that entitles him to a more prominent emblem which he already has.

The amendment also stated that all fish must be weighed in "in the round."

ANNUAL REPORT

Dr. Hugh Clarke in his annual report pointed with pride to the manner in which the association had progressed in 1936. "It was the most successful year the club has ever experienced," the retiring president emphasized. The membership, Dr. Clarke reported, topped the half thousand mark, and with public interest in Brentwood fishing gaining a strong hold, he was looking forward with optimism for a still greater role call during the coming year.

He noted with satisfaction the fine increase in juvenile and women members and hoped to see still more of the fair sex in the ranks this season. He thanked his fellow officers for their fine support during his term in office and paid high tribute to the fine manner in which Bev Gilson had handled the secretary-treasurer's job.

Charlie Clarke, chairman of the investigation and tackle committee, reported that the association staged five successful competitions during the year at Brentwood and in reporting on the entertainment end said:

Scott, 1 up.
Second Flight
Mrs. H. N. Sheffield defeated Mrs. A. Morill, 2 and 1.
Mrs. H. B. Combe defeated Mrs. C. E. Wilson, at the nineteenth.
Third Flight

PRESENTATIONS

The Schwengers Cup, the prize awarded the woman member catching the largest fish during the year went to Mrs. Herman Van Holt, Honolulu. Secretary Gilson was instructed to forward the prize to the lucky lady who also won a gold button, and a diamond for the eye of the fish etched on the emblem for the largest fish caught in Saanich Arm in 1936. Her catch was a forty-three and one-half pounder.

The Poodle Dog Cafe Cup, presented to the angler catching the most button fish during the year went to Frank E. W. Smith. He caught five.

Len Andrews was presented with the Alcock shield. To win the trophy he had to fish-off with the winners of the first three competitions held by the association. His catch weighed seventeen and one-half pounds.

"Smiling" Bill Rowe came forward to accept the Robinson Cup, symbolic of the largest fish caught on a Wednesday afternoon. His catch tipped the indicator to forty-one pounds, for which he also got a gold button. The Juvenile Cup, competed for by members under sixteen and donated by B. Peetz, went to Ken Campbell.

A vote of thanks was moved by E. L. Tait for Dr. Hugh Clarke, for his untiring efforts on behalf of the association during his term in office.

PORTLAND IN SECOND WIN

Hand Seattle Sea Hawks Another Hockey Setback By 5 to 2 Score

Portland, March 5.—Seattle Sea Hawks went home to roost today, feathers ruffled and heads under wings, after a 5 to 2 drubbing by Portland's league-leading Buckaroos in a Pacific Coast Hockey League game last night.

It was the second defeat Portland had handed the Hawks within two days. Wednesday night the bottom slot Seattle team lost 3 to 0 on their home ice.

Buckaroos' victory gave that sextette a nine-point lead over second place Vancouver Lions, but the Bucs have only one more game to play before the league schedule ends. The Canadians have five.

Portland jumped to a two-goal lead in the first period last night. Louis Coupez passed to Ralph Blyth, who scored the first in 2:31. Blyth also figured in the second counter by passing the puck to Norm Pridham, who slammed it home from ten feet out.

TIE SCORE
Sea Hawks rallied in the second frame and evened the score with Dave Downie taking major honors. Downie took the first unassisted, while Andy Aitkenhead was shoved out of the goal during a wild tussle. Later he passed to Hal Taylor, while Portland was two men short, to gather an assist.

In the last period, Blyth tallied another after a wild dash down the ice. He passed to Ronnie Martin, then received a return pass and drove the puck into the net from close range. Two minutes later, Scharfe took the puck from Oulette and Pridham on a double assist during a mix-up at the goalmouth and scored.

Portland's fifth marker was served by Coupez, assisted by Martin.

SINGH AGAIN ON MAT CARD

Hindu Will Oppose McDonald Tomorrow Night at Tillicum Gymnasium

The latest addition to the East Indian wrestling clan appearing in North America, Harnam Singh, will be given his first real test since arriving in Canada tomorrow evening, when he will be thrown into the squared ring at the Tillicum gym to match holds with "Wildman" McDonald, Medford, Oregon, grappler, in the semi-main attraction.

Singh appeared here last week in an exhibition match with Louie Newman. It was the first time he has fought under American rules. Johnny Fears, however, has had Singh under his wing all this week in an effort to teach him the rules under which he must abide while fighting on this continent. McDonald appeared here three weeks ago and grappled to a draw with Joe Mallory.

Harry Kent, Portland exponent, and Sailor Jack Arnold, Boston, will provide the action for the headline battle of eight ten-minute rounds. Both are clean and colorful wrestlers and a grand display of the finer arts of bone-bending should be the verdict when they tangle.

"Bully" Elk, another newcomer, will make his appearance here against Louie Newman in the special event of five six-minute rounds. The show will open at 8.30 o'clock with the usual preliminary.

The V.A.C. juvenile soccer team for tomorrow follows: Thomas, Tonkin, Simpson, Popham, Atherton, McAllister, Sherbrooke, Perkins, Simpson, C. Smith, Travis, Mar, E. Smith, Watson, Hardy and Lowe. Players to meet at the park at 10.15 o'clock.

WANDERERS TEAM
The Oak Bay Wanderers' intermediate rugby team for tomorrow follows: Gornall, Grogan, Brown, McCabe, McDonald, Horne, Pierce, McGregor, Stewart, B. Brown, B. Murdoch, G. Murdoch, Barber, Shepherd and Cook. Spares, Langton and Dawnes.

ONLY GRAHAM

has solved the "piston scoring" problem

Look at the pictures to the right. Here you see proof that cold weather starting causes disastrous wear on pistons in all cars except Graham!

In a Graham the moment you press your starter oil flows over the cylinder walls and around the pistons. Scuffing and abnormal wear are stopped!

If pistons A and B were scored so badly in only 20 zero weather starts imagine what they will be like at the end of a full winter's use!

Only Graham has instantaneous cylinder-wall lubrication—an exclusive Graham development ending the greatest single cause of engine wear—"dry" cylinders and pistons.

You are invited to inspect the new 1937 Gramams now on display. Drive the Graham Supercharger yourself. It will be a new and thrilling experience for you.

LOANS TO WEST
ARE $94,000,000

In Four Years Dominion Advanced Large Sums to Canada West of Great Lakes

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 5.—In the four fiscal years ended March 31, 1936, the Dominion loaned the western provinces a total of nearly $94,000,000 to assist them in relief expenditures, maturing obligations "and to a certain extent ordinary government expenditures."

This information was given in a return tabled in the House of Commons yesterday on request of Ralph Maybank, Liberal, Winnipeg South Centre.
By provinces:

Manitoba, 1932-33, $5,171,905-1933-34, $2,273,283; 1934-35, $3,874-631; 1935-36, $2,296,226.

Saskatchewan, $7,578,856, $5,469-240, $10,141,014, $14,245,478.

Alberta, $1,902,041, $4,050,743, $1-926,476, $13,104,000.

British Columbia, $912,636, $1,321-760, $7,996,714, $12,558,445.

Rates of interest began at 5 1/2 per cent, but were reduced year by year until at present the rate is 3 per cent.

THREE PAID INTEREST

Three of the provinces paid the interest as it became due, but Saskatchewan, being unable to meet it, has been forced to pay it out of its own funds.

The Opposition has declared that prices of essential foodstuffs would be forced up artificially and that land values would increase to the enrichment of those owning older and better cultivated areas and to the distress of recent settlers in outlying sections.

The Opposition represents mostly city dwellers and factory workers whose costs of living it said would be boosted.

The outcome of the referendum may force the turn of the next general election.

Powerful groups believe air transportation constitutes a dangerous rival to state railways, in which the people have invested $155,000,000.

PROFITS ARE DECLARED FAIR

Ottawa, March 5.—Since its inception, the Dominion Textile Company's earnings have been extremely low. C. G. Howard of Montreal, company counsel, argued before Mr.
Justice W. F. A. Turgeon's textile commission here today. This was particularly so having regard to the value of the investment and the risks attendant on a manufacturing enterprise.

Mr. Howard cited figures showing that in the last ten years the average rate of return was 4.81 per cent on the value of the investment. Last year the return was 3.99 per cent.

This indicated the tariff protection afforded the industry was insufficient, counsel contended, since that protection did not enable the company to earn a reasonable profit.

NEWS IN BRIEF

J. Guy Shepard will speak in the C.C.F. Hall at Mount Tolsme Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock on "Canadian Armaments Budget and War."

Ward Three Liberal Association social, which was to be held at the Liberal headquarters this evening, has been canceled until further notice.

The Saanich Council yesterday evening appointed Councillor G. A.
Austin to accompany Charles Grant of the municipal staff to Seattle and Blaine where they will inspect steam-shovels in operation and make inquiries regarding terms for the purchase of one for the municipality.

At an enthusiastic meeting of members of the 67th Battalion Western Scots, held on Wednesday evening, it was decided to charter a special bus to transport those wishing to attend the annual reunion which will be held at the Plaza Hotel, Nanaimo, on March 20, at 8.30 p.m.
The bus will leave the V.I. Coach Lines Depot at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. It is expected over thirty will attend from Victoria. Those intending to present should advise S. H.
O'Neil or H. Rourke from whom tickets may be obtained.

Poultrymen Hear Talks on Chicks

Baby chicks, their heritage and care was the subject of a talk by A. L. McNeil of Bucklefield Limited before the Victoria Poultry Association in the Y.M.C.A. yesterday evening.

Too many people breed from individual chickens, hens with high records.
Instead of breeding from recognized lines of high producers, Mr. McNeil said. Overfeeding chicks was a fault of many poultrymen, and the speaker stressed the necessity of their being plenty of room in the brooder house so that chicks could "cool off."

Mr. McNeil showed a couple of diagrams of brooder houses.

Members of the association discussed the price of eggs at a short business meeting following the address. They found it too low in comparison with the high price of feed.

E. Barnes, president, was in the chair.

PAID IN TAXES

"And yet," he continued, "we find the per pupil cost of education so much more in Victoria than in Vancouver—in fact, 23 per cent more."

High school costs here were not due to teachers' salaries, he said. He did not think the teachers were overpaid.

Dr. Weir mentioned that in his last year's report George H. Deane, city school inspector, had recommended certain changes in administration, principally the introduction of the junior high school system, which would save the school board $20,000 a year.

Victoria had turned down a technical school ten years ago.

YOUNG MEN NOT TRAINED

"The formal and antiquated school organization of this city has forced the great majority of pupils to take academic courses leading to the University of the Normal School, whereas probably not more than 25 per cent of these students were qualified by intelligence and aptitudes for higher academic education."

"It is not high time," he asked,
"that the misleading counsel of the reactionaries and bestirred themselves over the matter of educational efficiency—of education suited to the needs and capacities of their children and of the causes of unusually high comparative educational costs? The Victoria City Council has displayed an attitude of doubt, if not of mild indignation. It wants to know the facts."

W. M. Scott thanked the speaker.

Vernon Ridgway, president of the life underwriters, was in the chair.

F. W. Taylor was elected a director of the Victoria branch.

Time For Victorians to Bestir Themselves About Efficiency of System, Says Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education; Per Pupil Costs Here $15.50
Higher Than Vancouver

Victoria paid in cash and in the sacrifice of its children's progress for accepting the reactionary advice of a "few colonial-minded scribes and others of their ilk" in its education policies, Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, declared in a public address last night.

"I am suggesting that your educational system be sanely modernized in order that your children be given a fair deal in comparison with the children attending schools in up-to-date communities and that you receive, in perhaps greater measure, than heretofore, adequate value for each taxpayer's dollar spent on public education," the minister said after a review of the city's school system.

Dr. Weir said that while Vancouver had gone ahead with the modern 6-3-3 organization of its schools ten years ago, Victoria had "clung to the antiquated 8-4 system," which was Frustrated in its origin and in concept.

The modern system, he explained, was six years in elementary school, three in junior high school and three in senior high school. The Victoria plan was eight years in elementary and four in high school.

Dr. Weir quoted statistics showing that in 1934 the cost per pupil per year of Victoria schools was $80.94; in Vancouver $65.44, and for the province as a whole, $67.88.

Victoria's 16.29 per cent of its population attending school and Vancouver had 16.13 per cent, but the school tax levies were about the same: 26.37 per cent of the total in Vancouver and 25.50 per cent in Victoria.

Members of the association discussed the price of eggs at a short business meeting following the address. They found it too low in comparison with the high price of feed.

PROFESSOR EDWARD WESTERMARK, who is said to be the world's No. 1 marriage expert, declares that the modern woman's independence is a definite danger to married happiness.

If the learned gentleman is considering the marital happiness of men alone he is probably right in his assertion. No doubt a meek, humble, subservient wife is easier to live with than one who has acquired the annoying habit of having her own opinions and totting her own pocketbook, but even looking at the subject from the woman's point of view it is doubtful if her emancipation has helped her either to catch or hold a husband.

In most ways women's independence has opened a new heaven and a new earth for them, and no modern woman would go back to the days when a wife was virtually a slave to her husband. But, still, and all, considering the fact that marriage is woman's foreordained and predestined career and the one she is heir to on following, it is a question whether her freedom makes for happiness in it, or whether it is the bomb that so often blows it up to Kingdom Come.

Undoubtedly it makes her more choosy and harder to please in husbands, for it is one thing to have to marry for a neat ticket and another thing to be able to earn your own cakes and ale. It makes her more resentful of a husband trying to enforce any authority over her. It makes her far less willing to overlook his faults and foibles and side-stepping. Husbands being as they are, none of these things make for domestic tranquility.

It is a great and wonderful thing, for instance, that the modern girl need not eat the bitter bread of dependence and that she can go out into the world and support herself. Nowadays, virtually all young women follow some gainful occupation before marriage, which is fine and dandy, but it unfits them in many ways for marriage.

The girl who goes from the schoolroom into business has had little time or opportunity to learn even the rudiments of house making. She may be an expert on the typewriter, but she is a bungler on the gas range. She may be a buyer for a swanky shop, whose judgment on styles and materials is almost infallible, but she can't tell tough meat from tender and doesn't know whether she should buy a couple of chops or a whole lamb for dinner.

She may be able to make her income tax report, but she can't keep the grocery bill straight. What a man wants in a wife is not a competent business woman, but a good cook who knows how to get up a tasty dinner and make a comfortable, livable home for him.

Furthermore, the woman who has been in business is seldom satisfied with the monotony of domestic life. She misses the dressing up and going downtown each morning; the gaiety of companionship of those who work in groups; the thrill of having a part, however small, in putting over big deals.

After that experience, working in her own home with no one to speak to, nothing happening, and labor that takes only one job of her brain is boring to most women, and they are always pining for the old life. For a woman to have once had her own money that she made herself and could do with as she pleased is for her to have tasted blood. She lusts for it the balance of her life. She can never ask her husband for what she needs without feeling the humiliation of a beggar.

That women's financial independence is at the bottom of the increase in divorce goes without saying. A woman who knows no way of making a dollar must put up with any sort of a husband. The self-supporting woman can put on her hat and go back to her old job if she so much as loses her taste for her husband. Many do. Economic necessity was behind the patient endurance of our grandmothers, just as the ability to support herself is the reason that our granddaughters fly so often to Reno.

Undoubtedly the modern independent woman makes far less effort to get along with her husband and make her marriage a success than did the dependent woman of the past, who knew that they had to endure their marriages, hence made the best of them.

Who can say that in the end they did not get a greater happiness out of keeping their homes intact and their families together than do the independent women who swap husbands and change homes as often as they like.

Strange Birds

Among the birds which sailors and much of fish, ocean travelers see is one which has a good claim to fame. It is known as the wandering albatross, and has the greatest wing-spread of any modern bird.

The body of the wandering albatross is not very large, being about the same size as the body of a goose or turkey, but the wings measure from ten to fourteen feet, from the tip of one to the tip of the other. This means they would spread from one side to the other of a fair-sized bedroom.

Albatross make their homes on islands, and nest north and south of the equator. Hundreds, or even thousands, may gather on an island and set-up one or more rookeries. The high-rimmed nests are built on the ground, and are composed of mud and grass. In the hollow at the top of each one, a single egg is laid. The flesh of the albatross is valued for food, and sailors sometimes stop at islands to hunt them. Hollow bones in the wings have been cut to the proper length and employed for pipe stems.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel." SATURDAY, MARCH 6, 1937. Obstacles may be encountered in the morning hours of this day, according to astrology. Benefic aspects are active later. Industry continues under a sign that presages protracted unrest among workers. Strikes will continue to disturb manufacturers and impede commerce, despite governmental measures for the general welfare. Women should be fortunate under this sign. It encourages entertaining of friends and formal hospitalities that will redound to the benefit of the hostesses. This is a time more auspicious for recreation than for work. The wise will forget professional and business anxieties, for the spring is to be a period of rest. This month's lunation which falls in conjunction with Saturn seems to fore-shadow much illness and many sudden deaths. Strain both mental and physical, should be avoided. Workers will focus public attention in many countries and will cause alarm among those who have mental vision. With increasing prosperity within reach in the United States, business and commerce will be hampered. Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of pleasant experiences, which include journeys and meetings with new friends. Children born on this day probably will be exceedingly intelligent and fond of acquiring knowledge. Subjects of this sign usually succeed in vocations requiring leadership. General Philip Henry Sheridan, Civil War commander, was born on this day, 1831. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Elizabeth Barrett Browning, English poetess, 1832, and Edmund Lebon, French marshall, 1859. (Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate)
